STORM DISRUPTS POWER SERVICE, FLOODS ROADS

←This is how High and Hanover streets looked late yesterday morning just before the rain, lightning and thunder struck. This view is looking southeast. The darkness in morning effect lasted for more than ten minutes. When the skies uncorked their 17th rain so far this month, electrical and telephone service was affected over a wide area, and small streams went foaming over their banks.

Daytime Is Nighttime

By MERCURY STAFF WRITER FRED C. SELBY

Rain and lightning that followed night-in-morning sent small streams spilling over their banks, knocked out 250 'phones and disrupted electrical service in hundreds of homes and industries in the Pottstown area.

In addition, overburdened storm sewers in the borough flooded yards, cellars and a miniature railroad.

The cloudburst that began at 10:30 o'clock and poured down 1.08 inches in an hour flat was the day's second storm. From 2 a. m. to 5 a. m., 1.12 inches fell. The two storms brought the total rainfall so far this month to a whopping 7.77 inches.

It was the 17th day out of the 26 days this month in which measurable rain has fallen. Yesterday's storms were the third and fourth bad ones since the past Friday morning.

The Schuylkill rose sharply yesterday — from 5.02 feet yesterday morning to 7.77 at noon — but Matthew I. Peacock, weatherman in Reading, said late yesterday there appeared to be no danger of flood stage (13 feet) being reached.

The river reached its peak at about 5 p. m. when the reading was 8.83 feet. At 5:30 p. m. it dropped to 8.80 feet.

One of the hardest-hit sections was Boyertown where most of the industries were knocked out from 10:30 o'clock until noon. Home electricity also was cut off in many parts of Boyertown and in outlying sections from Shanesville to Ringing Hill and from Bally to Pleasantville.

Closer to the borough, there were nine electrical service calls from Stowe, including one from the E. V. Hunter plant, and scattered trouble in Pottstown and eastward to Limerick.

Most of the disruptions close to Pottstown were ended by early afternoon, but in the Boyertown section, there were small sections without service as late as 3:30 p. m.

WILLARD L. KLINE, Bell Telephone company manager, said 250 'phones were out in the afternoon. "The storm seemed to center around Pottstown this time," he said after looking at Bell's log of repairs.

Both Kline and Frank Llewellyn, Philadelphia Electric Service company, said the lightning was almost entirely responsible for the trouble.

The night-in-morning effect was at its worst in mid-Pottstown at 10:35 o'clock. Neon signs glowed strongly through the greenish darkness. Motorists turned on their headlights and cars crawled along the streets. Pedestrians joked about not knowing the stores were open on Wednesday night.

The storm rode in on grayish-green clouds. In the next hour, a total of 1.08 inches of rain fell, compared to the 1.12 inches that fell in the first storm, which was three times as long.

IN BOTH STORMS, the thunder had a distinctive rumbling and the rolls of it lasted far longer than usual. Several times it sounded like a bureau falling down stairs. One particularly strong roll, at 6 a. m., shook Pottstown homes.

The behavior of Pottstown area creeks was erratic. The usually troublesome Perkiomen did "nothing dangerous," it was reported by the man who measures it, Claude K. Kulp.

Streams that cross Route 422 west of Pottstown, near Birdsboro rose sharply but not far enough to spill over the highway, it was reported by a man who rode by many of them after the storm, Russell Millard, Gibraltar.

But the Manatawny was its usual self, flooding the baseball diamond completely and washing away part of the big stone wall around the island in Memorial park.

Sprogel's run did a lot for a little creek, flooding north Charlotte street at the foot of Ringing Hill, and spilling over Sunnybrook road in Sunnybrook park.

BEN KOZAK, Pottstown RD 4, saw the new miniature railroad in the park, which begins 50 feet from the creek, was flooded completely. Measuring by means of old bridge pilings, Kozak noticed the little

It Isn't So, A-Bomb Hasn't Fouled Up Weather, Prof Says

If you talked with any of Pottstown's curbstone meteorologists yesterday, you probably learned all about how the recent freakish weather—here and—elsewhere—is caused by the atomic bombs and atomic cannon tests in Nevada.

Don't believe it.

That was the advice yesterday of Samuel Schaadt, 6 Pine court, instructor in chemistry at The Hill who has done considerable studying and local lecturing on atomic energy.

He said: "I don't believe the atomic tests have any effect on the weather except in, perhaps, parts of Nevada itself."

The radiation and convection from the blasts don't go floating toward Pottstown, he said, they go high into the stratosphere.

"Our weather," Schaadt said, "is determined by conditions the world over, not by a local condition such as the atomic tests."

American Legion Post Entered During Rainfall

INVESTIGATION REVEALS THIEF MADE THREE TRIES

With a heavy curtain of rain helping to shield two unsuccessful attempts, a determined thief finally broke into the Boyertown American Legion post early yesterday morning and made off with more than $400 in cash.

The thief—or thieves—had to try three different methods before gaining entrance sometimes between 1:30 and 8:30 a. m. yesterday.

A handle on a basement door was busted; an upstairs door at the rear of the building was forced, and finally, a cellar window was broken.

The more than $400 in bills and change was stolen from three or four cigar boxes in a room used for storing liquor and other supplies.

MORE THAN $15 was also taken from a shuffleboard coin box in the club room, and four cartons of cigarets were stolen.

Police Chief Henry E. Groff and Ptl. Grant M. Groff investigated the burglary. Officer Edward McQuaid of Reading State police checked for fingerprints, and Officer John Beamer of Reading State Police also investigated.

Officer Grant Groff said last night it looked like the work of someone who knew where the money had been placed.

The quarters were locked up about 1:30 a. m., Groff said. There was no one in the premises at that time.

The burglary was discovered yesterday morning by Howard Gilbert, who opened the quarters at 8:30 to start cleaning up.

He noticed the broken window and called police.

The thief, after gaining entrance to the first room, had to jimmy a door to reach the room where the money was hidden.

He also tried to break open the coin box on the record player in the club room but only succeeded in damaging the machine.

Groff said that the thief picked a perfect time. It rained through the night and besides keeping walking traffic to a minimum, the rain probably helped muffle a lot of the noise the thief must have made.

It was the first burglary of the year in Boyertown.

Good Is Named To Athletic Post

By ROBERT E. HOYER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Edward Y. Good last night became Pottstown school district's first director of athletics and physical education.

In his new assignment Good will give up all coaching duties.

His years as coach of Trojan basketball and baseball teams were marked with occasional storms and roadblocks. But when he tosses aside the coaching reins they will remember him for the Chest-Mont league championships his basketball teams won in 1945, 1949 and 1951.

They will remember him for the scrappy, hard-sliding baseball teams which, during three years, rolled up an unbroken string of 38 victories. With Good at the helm this team still defies defeat.

Three games remain on the 1953 baseball schedule and the Trojans are fighting to keep their departing coach's record intact.

DIRECTORS approved Good's appointment 6 to 0. President H. Bert Shaw, Carl M. Binder, H. Clifford Creswell, William H. Yohn, Charles L. Rohland and Earl J. Reidenouer voted for his promotion. Director Victor J. Roberts was absent.

Members asked Rohland, chairman of the activities committee, to receive applications for the basketball and baseball coaching vacancies created by Good's elevation.

Rohland said he would schedule an athletic council meeting before the board's June meeting.

Directors said applicants from the present coaching staff will be

Firestone Executives Visiting From India Cite Difficult Odds

How would you like to sell automobile tires in a country where there's only one car for every 1300 persons?

Like peddling refrigerators in Alaska!

But those are the odds that two distinguished visitors to Pottstown face each day they drive to their offices in India.

And they seem to be thriving on it.

Two managers of Firestone districts in India were paying their first to this country—and Pottstown—yesterday afternoon.

They are Sucha Singh Anand and K. V. P. Rao. Anand is manager of the northern division in India and Rao handles the southern section.

Both nattily dressed in Western business suits, shirts and flashy neckties, the two men said yesterday that they were thrilled over their first trip to this country.

"I've been saying," Rao said in very fine English, "for more than 25 years that I've been a member of the Firestone family and yet this is the first time that I've ever met a Firestone. I've always told my children that they were members of the Firestone family. So

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES TO SHUT VETS SCHOOL

Dwindling Attendance In Classes Brings Action

EX-SERVICE PERMITTED TO ENTER SENIOR HIGH

Pottstown veterans school will be only a fading memory after June 3.

School directors last night voted to close the dying school because of dwindling attendance.

They accepted the resignation of Calvin J. Cressman and Maurice E. Borneman, the last two teachers at the school, and directed William O. Smith, director, since 1947, to complete all official records by July 1. Classes will end on June 3.

But Korean veterans who wish to improve their education will have a place to go. They can enrol in the High school and may register with Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr. for Fall classes.

The veterans school with only night classes opened in July 1946 with George Kjellman, director. Kjellman died after a year and Smith has held the directorship since that time.

THE SCHOOL, like many temporary postwar institutions ran the course of prosperity to famine.

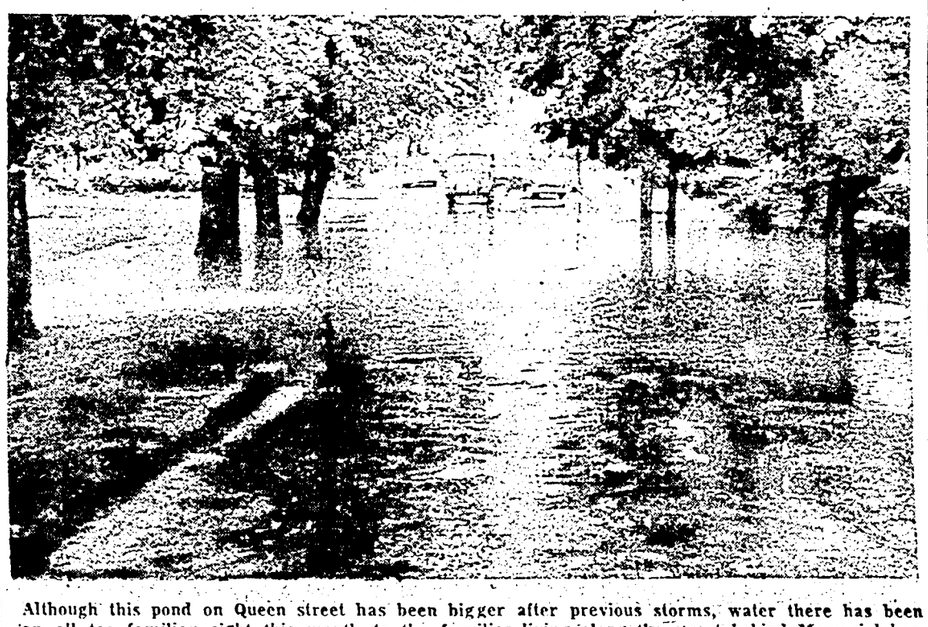

In the flourishing early days attendance ranks swelled to 200 by returning veterans. In the last weeks of operation the school limped along with an enrolment of 20 in two classes.

Early in the year all disabled veterans, there were just five, were assigned to jobs, completed their training or were transferred to other schools.

The vets currently enroled at the school will receive credit

Water Slows Traffic . . .

Although this pond on Queen street has been bigger after previous storms, water there has been an all-too-familiar sight this month to the families living along the street behind Memorial hospital (the hospital grounds are at left). 100 PUPILS HERE NEW YORK BOUND

Senior High Group Votes Three-Day Trip To City

More than 100 Senior High school pupils will leave Pottstown this morning for a three-day trip to New York city before their graduation.

This will mark the second year in a row that the school's Seniors have voted to make the trip to New York rather than Washington, D. C.

For years, the tradition has been to visit the nation's capital, but so many of the pupils make the trip as members of the drill teams and bands that many prefer making the second trip to New York.

Because of the trip, this year's annual class night program has been called off. Originally scheduled for June 3, the event will not

Kimberton Firemen Quell Barn Blaze; Loss Set at $500

Quick work by Kimberton firemen early this morning saved the giant, white barn of Alexey Brodovitch, Chester Springs, West Pikeland township.

Kimberton firemen raced to the scene at 12:45 a. m. with two pumpers and quickly shot water from booster streams on the flames in an empty hay mow of the huge barn.

Brodovitch helped douse the fire before firemen arrived. He attacked flames with a garden hose after his wife called him and told him the barn was smouldering.

Mrs. Brodovitch saw a reflection in a barn window when she was going to bed and called her husband.

The Liberty company sent one pumper to the scene and the Humane company of Royersford reported with one truck. The Royersford Friendship Hook and Ladder company dispatched a chemical wagon to the fire.

Only Kimberton firemen were

Pottstown Textile Company to Open Monday, Employ 20-25 Persons

A new textile plant that will employ 20 to 25 workers at the start will open Monday on South street.

This was announced yesterday by the head of the new business, Mrs. Katie Pomponio, 620 Chestnut street, former president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers union in Pottstown and former superviser of a Philadelphia textile plant.

The firm will be called Pottstown Textile company and will occupy 2200 square feet of first-floor space at 222 South street, the former location of Bickel's bakery.

Machinery has been set up for making women's pajamas, and the interior of the building has been remodeled.

The circus is coming to town.

It will be here June 1 on the field across from the Pottstown hospital, if everything goes according to plan.

Under the sponsorship of the Good Will Fire company, the circus will feature everything that a circus is expected to have.

There will be three rings full of excitement and animals, and a wild West show to top off each performance.

Shows will be held at 3:30 p. m. and 8 p. m., according to Donald Davis, chairman of the Good Will circus committee.

SPEAKER TALKS ON IRON MINE

Lions Members Hear Of Ore Deposit at Morgantown

More than 35 million dollars will have been spent on Bethlehem's current Morgantown mining project before any ore is mined on a production basis.

Robert Peets, chief mining engineer of the Bethlehem Cornwall corporation, told members of the Lions club at their meeting last night that the Morgantown mine, located about 20 miles from Pottstown, would be one of the largest iron ore mines in the country.

The project, work on which was started in April 1951, won't be completed until 1956, when ore will start coming out on a production basis.

But before that date, not only will 35 million dollars be spent, but 25,000 feet of railroad line will have to be laid to reach the Reading railroad line, and Route 122 will have to be relocated.

PEETS BROUGHT out that the company purchased 5600 acres of land for the project and the ore at this spot is 44 percent iron. (The ore at the Mesabi mines in Minnesota is from 50 to 60 percent iron.)

When the mine does get into operation in 1956, it will produce more than 5800 tons of ore per day, which is equal to one 100-car railroad train.

The ore will be shipped to the smelters at Bethlehem.

Although more than 1200 persons will be employed by the mine, the company is not planning any community housing, assuming that workers would prefer living in neighboring communities.

Texas Housewives Claim Government Tax Law Forces Them into Slavery

NEW ORLEANS, May 26 (AP) — Those Marshall, Texas, housewives told three judges today the Government has forced American housewives into slavery by compelling them to be "unpaid tax collectors."

Furthermore, the rebellious housewives told the US Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals that the Government in their opinion "has no power in the operation of a household."

The housewives who have gained national attention in their battle against a 1950 amendment to the Federal Insurance act appeared in court with their attorney.

Domestic employes must pay 1 percent of their salary for social security under the act and amendment and the employer contributes a like amount.

THE EMPLOYER must withhold money from the servant's wages and the Marshall housewives claimed this is unconstitutional because the Government is forcing them to work without compensation

A lower court ruled against them and then they appealed to the Court of Appeals here.

Eleven housewives refused to pay the tax. But to consolidate the attack on the act, only one housewife, Mrs. Carolyn Abney, sued the Government.

She asked that $12 the Government too from her bank account to pay social security for domestic servants be returned.

THROUGH THEIR attorney, Dean Moorhead of Austin, Texas, the housewives claimed they were being forced into slavery because:

"The withholding provision violates the 13th amendment . . . by imposing involuntary servitude upon domestic employers, and that provision deprives domestic employers of their liberty and property in violation of the fifth amendment."

Moorhead said housewives are required by law to keep records, make reports, and furnish receipts to the Government.

"The amendment," he said, "forces these housewives to be unpaid tax collectors for the Government."

CARLTON FOX, Government attorney, said arguments presented by the housewives were "inconceivable."

"Sure these Texas women are good women," he said, in urging them to "search their conscience" and see if they could turn out o servant too old to work "to face the haunting fears of poverty and old age."

The court did not indicate when it would rule on the appeal.

Dr. Alice Sheppard To Attend Meetings

Dr. Alice E. Sheppard, 174 North Franklin street, will attend a five-day conference of the American Medical association in New York June 1 to 5.

Also planning to attend is Dr. Arthur F. Mann, Pottstown physician.

This will be the first time in recent years that the AMA will hold its sessions in New York. Usually the organization alternates between Chicago and Atlantic City and San Francisco and Atlantic City.

Dr. Sheppard will attend sections on obstetrics and gynecology.

Kiwanis Members Told Of Chamber Activities

More than 60 members of the Pottstown Kiwanis club were told last night of the many functions performed by the Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking on the Chamber was Melvin Feroe, local businessman, who was talking in conjunction with a current Chamber of Commerce membership drive.

A new member, Frank Fredericks, was welcomed into the club last night. Raymond Eppehimer was chairman of the program and Raymond Dotterer presided at the meeting.

National Guard Schedules Drill Session Tuesday

Capt. Harold C. Baumann, commanding officer of Company A, 111th Infantry RCT, of the Pennsylvania National Guard, reported that last night's drill sessions were postponed until next week.

He said drills would get underway Tuesday at 7:10 p. m. at the armory.

Work Holiday Slated At Two More Plants

Two more Pottstown plants announced yesterday that they would celebrate the coming Memorial day weekend by giving work holidays.

The Firestone plant, which has been working a six-day schedule, will stop work at 11 p. m. Friday and remain closed until Monday at 7 a. m., according to E. T. Handley, manager.

Robinson Clay Products company will work only one shift on Saturday instead of its usual two shifts, E. S. Hewitt, superintendent, said last night.

All other major plants in town will also observe the holiday by ceasing operations, either completely or partially.

Casualties Announced

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Defense department today identified 27 Korean war casualties in a new list that reported seven killed, 12 wounded, one missing and seven captured.

Communications Union Imperils US Security, Jenner Says

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Senator Jenner (R-Ind) said today a Communist-controled union represents communications workers in key American cities and poses "a threat to the internal security of this country."

He identified the union as the American Communications association (ACA), which the past week won an election to become the collective bargaining agent for 5000 Western Union telegraph workers in New York.

Jenner said ACA also represents employes of Western Union Cable company, of RCA communications posts on the East and West Coasts; and of some New York and Philadelphia radio stations.

The threat to internal security, the Indiana Senator stated, lies in the fact that members of the union are in a position to intercept Government messages, including secret wires on defense matters.

He made his charges against ACA at an open hearing of the subcommittee today, instructing his staff to consult with the National Labor Relations board and "see if something can be done about this situation."

Western Union's main office in New York handles circuits to all major cities in the country, Jenner said. He added that many important Government installations are connected to this office, including the First Army Signal center, the Navy Communications service, the New York Port of Embarkation and the Broklyn Navy yard.

Three men who once held high-level jobs with the Federal government were called before the subcommittee today, and all refused to state whether they were Communists when they were working for the Government or whether they are members of the party now.

The reluctant witnesses were Nathan Witt, former secretary of the National Labor Relations board (NLRB) and now a New York lawyer; John J. Abt, former attorney in the Justice and Agriculture departments, and Julius J. Joseph, who had a desk in the White House when he was an associate economist for the National Resources Planning board in 1940 and '41.

ALL HAVE BEEN named as Reds or ex-Reds by Elizabeth Bentley, Whittaker Chambers and others who have testified about Communist spy activity before congressional committees.

Jenner brought up the question of the American Communications association while Witt was on the stand. He said Internal Security hearings held in 1951 had established that ACA was under Communist control.

Witt said he considered ACA a "good union." He added that he doesn't represent ACA but might have filed a brief in its behalf in some court case.

Robert Morris, subcommittee counsel, told Jenner he had been advised by the NLRB that it had no choice but to certify a union which won a collective bargaining election. He said he had been informed that Western Union could not fire a worker it knew to be a Communist.

MORRIS ASKED Witt what might be the answer to the problem raised in Jenner's discussion of ACA.

"I'm reluctant to give advice to Western Union," Witt replied.

Witt's session with the Senators ended on a heated note.

He told the subcommittee his work as NLRB secretary had been praised by all of the board members under whom he worked, and received permission to file letters from some of these members.

Witt said the board was under continual attack from employer groups such as the National Association of Manufacturers when he was on it.

"DID THE COMMUNIST party attack it?" Senator Smith (D-NC) inquired.

The witness replied sharply that the party did not. He said the board in that period was trying to prevent textile workers and others from being "shot down in cold blood."

Witt went on to say he was a "faithful Government employe" during his service and that he was a "free American" who did not make up his mind on the basis of what the Communist party thought.

"And yet you won't come in here and say whether you were a Communist," Smith remarked.

Jenner shouted, "you know a Communist is not a free man. I've heard all I want to hear from you. You're excused."

WHEN JOSEPH was on the stand he refused to tell the Senators whether he had ever passed secret Government documents to Miss Bentley, an acknowledged ex-courier for a Soviet spy ring.

But at another point he swore he had never engaged in espionage against the United States.

Joseph, who lives in New York, was a member of the Wartime Office of Strategic Services from 1943 to 1945. The OSS was an elite intelligence outfit which often worked behind enemy lines in World War II.

Refusing to state whether he is a Communist, Joseph accused the Senators of asking him questions which "are not American." He did not deny Miss Bentley's testimony, but he called her a "professional witness who commercializes on the general pattern of fear, of hysteria".

Admiral Byrd Plans Expedition to Pole

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Veteran polar explorer Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd today announced plans for another expedition to the South Pole as soon as the Korean War is over, and added "I have reason to believe the war will be over very soon."

"There is a land area in Antarctica as large as the United States which, so far as is known, has never been seen by human eye," the wiry 64-year-old explorer said.

"It is a vast, untouched reservoir of natural resources. As we recklessly squander our natural resources in this country we will come to need these new sources. It is imperative that they do not fall into the hands of a potential enemy."

Hospital Directors Hold Dinner Meeting

A general discussion was held last night by the Memorial hospital board of directors at a dinner meeting at the Brookside Country club.

Albert P. Pollick, hospital administrator, reported that the proposed building plans for the hospital were not discussed because of the absence of board President Charles R. Wylie.

According to Pollick, Wylie is to get all information regarding the program. But Wylie is now on vacation, consequently, the board had to postpone discussion on the project.

Keystone Grange to Give Program at New Hanover

The Keystone Grange of Trappe will present a program tonight when they visit members of the New Hanover Grange.

In charge of the program will be Willis Hetrick, worthy master of the New Hanover Grange. The gathering will be held at the New Hanover Grange hall.

Stove Pipe Gashes Man Installing Heating System

He was installing a heating system at a Beech street home when the accident occurred.

Constantine was treated at the Pottstown hospital dispensary at 7:20 p. m. Two sutures were required to close the wound.

Auxiliary Contributes $1548 to Company

In a financial report Monday night, John B. Hartenstine Jr., president of the North End Fire company stated that the Ladies auxiliary has contributed a total of $1548 to the company.

Hartenstine announced that the company festival will be held on July 11 beginning at 5 p. m. on the Junior High school grounds. The affair will be jointly sponsored by the company and the auxiliary.

Rain date for the festival was set for July 13. Kurtz Gabriel and William Hunter were named co-chairmen.

An outdoor meeting was planned for June 22 by the group which also voted to accept 34 new members.

The meeting was held at the Empire Hook and Ladder Fire house

Local Man Committed To County Prison on Non-Support Charge

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, May 26—William A. Dudley, 35, of Chestnut street, Pottstown, was committed to the county prison yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Raymond Kelley, charging him with non-support of his wife, Ethel, and their daughter, Patricia.

Taken into custody in Washington, D. C., Dudley was arraigned before Judge E. Arnold Forrest as a parole violator.

After explaining his reasons for leaving the jurisdiction, the prisoner was continued on probation. However, since the detainer had been lodged by Kelley, he was jailed.

Dudley disappeared from Pottstown the past month and surrendered himself a week ago to his brother who is a member of the Washington, D. C., police force.

He was placed on a year's probation the past Oct. 10 by Judge Forrest for passing bad checks in the amount of $80.

City Woman Injured In Virginia to Return

Mrs. Lenore McConnell, 80, of 1472 Sunset drive, who was injured in an automobile accident this past Wednesday afternoon in Arlington, Va., will return to Pottstown today via the Good Will ambulance.

According to A. C. Seawell, same address, son-in-law of Mrs. McConnell, she, Seawell's wife, Marion, and a third woman were riding in a car driven by Mrs. Seawell when they stopped at an intersection in Arlington for a stop light.

Another car rammed into the rear end of Mrs. Seawell's car, throwing Mrs. Seawell and Mrs. McConnell against the windshield.

ALTHOUGH THE other occupants of the car were uninjured, Mrs. McConnell was taken to Arlington Community hospital, suffering from deep cuts and abrasions about the face and a slight concussion.

Accompanying the Good Will ambulance to Arlington today will be Mrs. Frances Shedrick, a nurse at Pottstown hospital, Seawell said.

Doehler Union Votes For New Officers

Union members balloted for a full slate of officers. Votes will be counted by members of the election committee today.

Workers voted for a president, vice president, chief steward, financial secretary, treasurer, recording secretary, trustee, three-year term, sergeant-at-arms, production and skilled division representatives to the national Doehler council and assistant chief steward.

Yugoslavs Ready To Bury Hatchet

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 26 (AP)—Koca Popovic, Marshal Tito's foreign secretary, said today that if Russia desired Yugoslavia was "ready to undertake negotiations" to settle Balkan Cold War differences.

But, he added, he saw little prospect of "normal and bearable relations with all our neighbors," including Russia.

Popovic voiced his opinion in an hour-long news conference, the first a foreign secretary has held here in five years. His statement about Yugoslavia's readiness to begin negotiations was in response to a query.

On the question of resuming trade with Russia and the Cominform countries, which Moscow suspended with an economic boycott in 1949, Popovic said that if the Soviet Union ended its policy of discrimination against this country, he could see no reason why Yugoslavia — like other countries —should not do business with Russia.

Eisenhower Announces US Will Stand On Principle of No Forced Repatriation

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) President Eisenhower asserted tonight that the United States, with the backing of its Allies, is sticking to the principle that prisoners taken in the Korean War must not be coerced to go home.

The President's statement, which the White House said was issued to clear up misunderstandings, came after the South Korean ambassador told the State department that the newest United Nations truce proposals are "completely unsatisfactory."

All the concessions are being made by the UN side and none by the Communists, he said. Dispatches from Seoul said South Korean officials displayed rising anger today over the new Allied truce offer, which was submitted to the Communists over the weekend and is still officially a secret.

South Korean anger appeared, however, to be aroused primarily, not by the prisoner issue, but by a fear that a result of the truce talks Korea would wind up still divided, with the Chinese Reds in North Korea indefinitely.

"Our Government is insisting that a unified Korea be part of the peace picture," said the South Korean envoy to Washington, You Chan Yang.

HOWEVER, THE envoy did touch on the prisoner issue in talking to newsmen after his call at the State department. He declared his government firmly believes that all Korean prisoners must be released in Korea "because that is the land of their origin." He added that "we don't care what they do with the Chinese Communists."

A United States plan of May 13, now reported withdrawn, called for the release in South Korea of 34,000 North Korean prisoners who refuse to go back to their Red-dominated home area.

According to South Korean sources, this proposal has been scrapped. These sources say the new UN plan submitted to the committee at Panmunjom calls for a five-power "neutral" commission to take custody in Korea of 48,500 Chinese and North Korean prisoners who balk at going home. If they persisted in their refusal, their disposition would be given first to a political conference and finally to the United Nations General Assembly.

FORD GIVES HIKE IN PENSIONS TO AUTO WORKERS

Giant Motor Firm Pledges $137.50 Top Monthly To Pensioners

DETROIT, May 26 (AP)—The Ford Motor company helped to make new labor history today, outdoing major rivals in worker pensions.

Ford gave its 135,000 production workers the pledge of $137.50 a month maximum pensions, including social security. Previously it was $125.

The company, as did General Motors the past week, adjusted chief elements of its five-year cost-of-living contract with the CIO United Auto workers.

It was felt inevitable that all contracts in the industry would be revamped as a result.

THIS WOULD mean that the nation's total of 1,000,000 or more auto plant employes would be affected.

Almost immediately upon completion of the Ford agreement the union went into negotiations with Chrysler, third of the car industry's "big three."

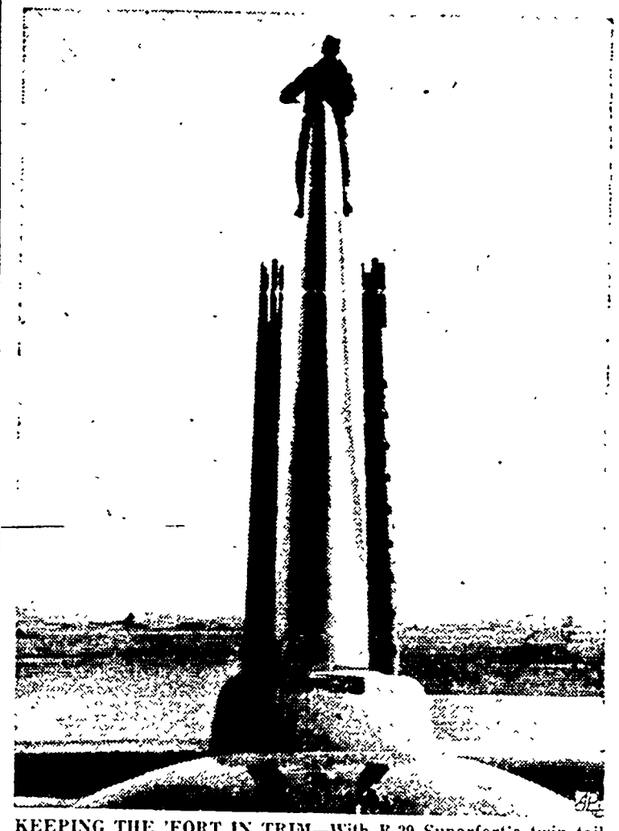

General Motors employs 350,000 men, Chrysler 117,400.

Customarily, the entire industry follows the lead of the big three.

Ford, in keeping with GM, adjusted wages and also incorporated 19 cents of the 24 cents in cost of living raises since 1950 into base pay.

THIS MEANS a new contract base pay which can't be touched by any future price declines. The average hourly pay in the industry is now about $2.05. Thus $2 would be invulnerable.

SOVIET RUSSIA EXECUTES FOUR FOR ESPIONAGE

Quartet Identified As Spies of US By Moscow

MOSCOW, Wednesday, May 27 (AP)—The Soviet Ministry of Internal Affairs announced today that four spies who confessed they had dropped by parachute on the Ukraine with assignments from the American intelligence service had been tried and executed.

The ministry said the four had confessed they were dropped in the Ukraine the night of April 26 from an unmarked four-engine American plane for diversionist, terrorist and espionage assignments.

The ministry, in a special communique, said the four were executed by a firing squad. They were identified as:

Alexander Vasilievich Lakhno.
Alexander Nikolaevich Makov.
Sergi Iozisimovich Gorbnov.
Dmitri Nikolaevich Remigi.

THE COMMUNIQUE gave this account of the incident:

"On the night of April 26, 1953, there was received by the Ministry Internal Affairs of the USSR information of a violation of the Soviet frontier and the appearance over the territory of the Ukrainian republic (one of the members republics of the USSR) of a foreign airplane of unknown nationality.

"It was established that from the above named plane there were dropped parachutists—agents of a foreign intelligence service.

As a result of measures taken by the Ministry of Internal Affairs of the USSR, there were searched out and arrested two parachutists who gave names as Vasili Vasilievich Vasilchenko and Leonid Nikolaevich Matkov.

"The caught parachutists confessed that they were diversionists dropped on the USSR from abroad by the American intelligence service with diversionist terrorist, and espionage assignments."

Cheering Crowd Storms Queen's Car Leaving Palace; Elizabeth Rehearses Coronation Rites in Ancient Abbey

LONDON, May 26 (AP)—A radiant Queen Elizabeth rehearsed a climactic rite of the coronation today—the actual crowning—after passing through a frenzied crowd at Buckingham palace that broke police lines and stormed toward her car.

Elizabeth

Mounted police forced a path through the heavy crush of people and the car slowed to a snail's pace on the way toward Westminster Abbey.

The Queen, apparently calm, leaned forward and waved through a window. Then she smiled and a storm of cheering swept over the square in front of Buckingham palace.

She was wearing a blue silk dress, a small white hat and white shoes. She carried a white handbag. Three strands of pearls shone in the V-shaped collar of her dress.

SHE LOOKED fresh and summery as she stepped from the car, followed by her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. He was hatless.

It was her fourth rehearsal in the abbey. The doors were closed to the public.

The whole ceremony is long and incredibly complicated, more religious than political in character. Its various sections are being rehearsed at different times. A full-dress rehearsal is scheduled to be held Friday.

Today the Queen performed that part in which the crown of St. Edward is placed on her head by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Since the Archbishop was not present today, this act was only simulated.

Elizabeth remained in the abbey slightly more than an hour. Departing, she looked as fresh and relaxed as ever.

Meanwhile, the vast political importance for Britain's relations with the Commonwealth began to appear amid the glitter of the preparations for the coronation.

They were an odd contrast—the Aussies in field khaki with their upswept hats and the grenadiers resplendent in scarlet coats and towering bearskin shakos.

Troops from Pakistan will take over from the Australians. They will be followed by guards from other nations.

Chief Justice Denies Stay of Execution to Convicted A-Spies

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Chief Justice Vinson late today denied a stay of execution to Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the convicted A-bomb spies.

The denial followed the Supreme court's announcement of yesterday in which the high tribunal for the third time refused to review the trial of the Rosenbergs.

The Rosenbergs, man and wife, are in the death house of New York's Sing Sing prison after conviction of atomic espionage for Russia.

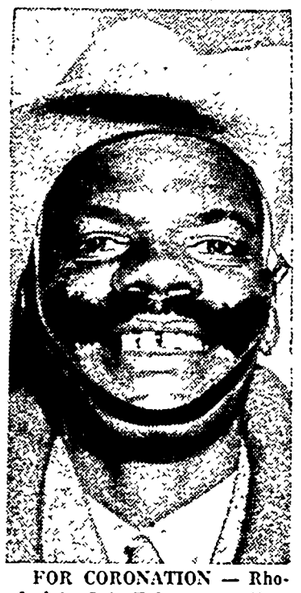

Sing Sing officials said the Rosenbergs would not be told of the action until official word reaches the prison.

AT NEW YORK'S Federal court building US Attorney J. Edward Lumbard said "something might be doing here tomorrow" on the Rosenberg case but declined to amplify.

It is now up to Federal Judge Irving P. Kaufman of New York to set an execution date.

Porter Finds Baby Swathed in Blanket On Glowing Coals

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Carmelo Chillemi, porter at a big Brooklyn housing project, went to the basement this morning to light the incinerator and burn some garbage.

"I opened the incinerator door, and saw what appeared to be a kewpie doll wrapped in a blanket and resting on the smouldering coals.

"Then I heard faint wailing sounds which soon became distinct cries of a baby.

"I pulled the blanket-wrapped form out of the incinerator."

Then, Chillemi said, he called another porter and they rushed the child to a hospital.

Doctors said that the baby, a girl less than a day old, was in "very good" condition.

Police started a hunt of the project for the person who put the baby in the incinerator.

Father Is Asked by Reds to Betray US In Return for Safety of His Children

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—A cocky stranger strode into a New York home the past week and asked a father to make this almost impossible choice:

(1.) Turn Communist spy and betray his adopted country, the US, hoping this might save his two children in Red Romania who were pleading for his help.

(2.) Remain true to this Nation, and take a chance on the safety of the youngsters he hasn't seen in six years?

The father, Valeriu Georgescu, told a news conference today how he reached his difficult decision, and why he took the course he did.

Even as he was talking the State department confirmed his decision:

GEORGESCU WOULD remain a loyal citizen.

The cocky stranger who had tried to talk him into turning spy, the State Department said, was Christache Zambeti, a diplomat at the Communist Romanian embassy here. The department ordered his "immediate departure" from this country.

"It's a strange story—almost like a movie," Georgescu described it, as if he still couldn't believe it happened to him.

Georgescu, now 49, is a petroleum engineer. In 1937, he became head of the Romanian affiliate of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

AFTER THE WAR, the company ran into the tremendous problem of rebuilding an industry shattered by the war. And, even as early as 1947, it was hard for American businessmen to get in and out of Romania.

So it was decided to bring Georgescu, a Romanian, to this country for conferences.

Georgescu and his wife left everything behind, since this was to be only a short business trip. Their children, Peter, then 8, and Constantin, then 13, remained with Mrs. Georgescu's parents.

Then the bottom fell out of Georgescu's world.

The Romanian Government began moving in on the oil industry. His friends and business colleagues were being arrested. It was impossible to return.

Senate Passes Bill to Strip Officials Of Cash Payment Instead of Vacation

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — The Senate unanimously approved a bill today to strip top Government officials of the right to collect cash payments instead of vacations and end what Senator Williams (R-Del) denounced as a "racket."

The bill would deny the lump-sum vacation settlement privilege to approximately 500 Government officials. However, it would restore to lower echelon employes the right to accumulate over the years as much as 60 days of vacation leave, and receive lump sum cash settlement for it upon leaving the Government service.

Williams

It would require any employe leaving the Federal payrolls and collecting the lump sum settlement to reimburse the Government if he goes back to a Government job before expiration of the leave-time due.

The measure now goes back to the House, which had approved it first, for consideration of amendments voted by the Senate. Approval in the Senate was by voice vote.

THE BILL stems in part from charges by Williams that many top Democratic officials drew large sums in lieu of vacations when the Administration changed hands.

He also said that in many other cases an employe would be fired one day, paid off for vacation leave due, then hired back within a day or two. He called both practices "a racket . . . a raid on the Federal treasury."

Want to make a quick getaway?

THE nearest we can come to word-picturing for you how it feels to drive a 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow* is this:

When you toe the gas treadle, you can get away like silked lightning in a silent hurry.

More specifically, you can sweep your speedometer needle from zero to a legal 30 mph in the time you normally take two breaths.

The literal truth is—no other car in all the world can get away with the combined quickness, quiet and utter smoothness of a 1953 Buick with TT Dynaflow.

It takes more than the advanced new engineering of this fully automatic transmission to produce such thrilling performance, of course.

It takes power, too.

And that's here in full measure—the highest horsepowers and compression ratios, Series for Series, in Buick's fifty great years—with the world's most advanced V8 engine powering the SUPER and ROADMASTER.

There's a lot more you get in any 1953 Buick in generous and hard-to-match measure—room, comfort, ride steadiness, visibility—and, above all, value.

But these are things you must discover for yourself—as you must the greatest Buick performance in history.

Why not drop in on us real soon? We'll be happy to put you at the wheel of a new Buick and let our points prove themselves.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Local Girl Marries Princeton Man

Nancy S. Whiteco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Feyko, repeated wedding vows with her groom before an altar adorned with palms and white and yellow gladiolas.

Mr. Faass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Faass, College Park, Md.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. Feyko, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and gossamer satin, in traditional white. Wasp waisted, her fitted bodice was cut with a portrait neckline outlined in sequin-studded scallops. Its sleeves were long, and were pointed over her wrists.

Mrs. Forrest Eastman, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor.

Blue and yellow petit fleurs framed a shower of yellow ribbon for her bouquet, carried in a cluster of blue and yellow net.

Later, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in the New England states, and the bride traveled in a suit of pale blue with navy accessories and her wedding orchid.

After June 8, the couple will be at home in Germantown.

The groom, who was graduated from Princeton university with a degree in electrical engineering, is associated with Klauder associates in Philadelphia.

His bride studied at North Coventry High school and works for Bell Telephone company.

Mothers Must Be Geniuses, Speaker Advises Woman's Club

Woman's club of Pottstown held its closing meeting of the club year last night at Brookside country club.

Time was 6:30 p. m. and dinner was served to members.

Mrs. John B. DeVincentis, guest speaker was introduced by the outgoing club president, Mrs. A. Erwin Colver.

Her topic was "Mother's Anthology." She presented reflections about motherhood using many biblical characters to emphasize her remarks.

"To become a successful mother," she said, "You must be almost a genius."

Mrs. DeVincentis, Eaglesville school primary teacher, listed the various qualities which add up to womanhood and motherhood and spell out success as both.

The Motherhood of Mary she cited as the perfect ideal. She also held up as on example the mother of Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. A. Erwin Colver reported on the progress of the scholarship committee of the club.

Mrs. Daniel DiNordo and Rebekah Hemelright were appointed to serve on the budget revision committee of the United Fund.

Mrs. Joseph James was chosen as chairman of the auditing committee. Her assistants are Mrs. J. Walter Grow and Mrs. Leonard Koplin.

Mrs. Ephraim Keller reported on the recent convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. Kenneth Fillman spoke about her impressions of a lecture she attended given by the former Princess Ileana of Rumania, a nation now under Communist domination.

New members received into the group were: Mrs. Joseph Laferty, Mrs. Andrew Durocher, Mrs. Earl Seibert, Mrs. Whitey Kuschner. They were welcomed by the president.

Evelyn Shelly, a past president, installed the new officers and board members during the after-dinner ceremony.

Mrs. Kennth Fillman is the new president, and Mrs. Ephraim Keller assumed office as the new vice-president.

Mrs. Mark Henricks, chairman of the room hospitality committee, was in charge of the dinner arrangements.

Her aides were: Mrs. George L. Hughes, Mrs. Arthur Collins, Mrs. William A. White, Mrs. Chester B. Wolf, Mrs. Harold Binder and Mrs. Kenneth Moyer.

Mrs. John H. Saylor, Mrs. Ephraim H. Keller, Mrs. D. Hunter Klink, Mrs. John A. Kindervater and Mrs. Bert Shaw.

Clarence Levengood Jr. Weds Niantic Girl at Bally Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Diachynsky, Niantic, are the bride's parents. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Levengood, Douglassville RD 2.

Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament, Bally, was the setting for the double ring, afternoon service performed by the Rev. Charles L. Allwein.

Organ strains accompanied the bride's march down the aisle, for which she was clad in a traditional white gown of satin and lace.

Best man was walter Diachynsky, Boyertown.

More than fifty guests attended a reception that followed the service in Hanover House, where the tables were decked with flowers for the occasion.

Aqua lace attired the groom's mother. Her accessories were black and her corsage of carnations.

Promised Land, in the Poconos, was the honeymoon destination of the newlyweds, and the bride traveled in a gray suit with black accessories. Her bridal orchid was pinned to her shoulder.

Eighteen More Music Pupils of Mrs. Paul Favinger Make Bows At Second Recital Held in First Methodist Church School Room

Eighteen more music pupils of Mrs. Paul Favinger bowed in the second of two recitals held last evening in the First Methodist church.

Parents and friends of the artists packed the church's adult church school room for the occasion.

To open the show, Edmund Wills lead off with Thompson's "Evening Bells" and Herr's "Pomp and Pageantry."

Next, the distaff side took over as Barbara Trace was presented to play "Over the Waves" by J. Rosas and Marlene Hoffman played "La Cinquantaine."

Nancy Hutt followed, with "A Viennese Melody," before Linda Mayer's rendition of Fibich's "Poem."

Vanderbeck's "Edelweiss Glide" was the choice of Martine Donner, while Thompson's "Tarantella" was the arrangement selected by Sally Edwards.

"War March of the Priests," by Mendelsshon, was Ruth Moyer's offering, which preceded the second special presentation.

Debussy's perennial "Clare de Lune" was the next selection, played by Dale Marsteller. Dianne Sandquist was inspired by Ireland in her selection of "Londonderry Air."

Joan Russell played Rachmaninov's "Prelude in C Minor" and Mary Ann Frey performed Liszt's "Liebestraume."

Closing the program was Karsakow's "Flight of the Bumble Bee" played by Linda Sandquist and the third specialty arrangement.

Monday evening services joined in marriage Helen E. Steffy Minnick, 616 Beech street, and George A. Frymoyer, also of Pottstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Steffy, 301½ Chestnut street, are the parents of the bride.

Carnations filled the altar of Zion's Reformed church for the single ring ceremony read by the Rev. Howard Kosman before 50 guests.

Her navy blue hat featured sequin trim, and her shoes, bag and gloves were also navy blue. To her shoulder the bride pinned a red rose corsage.

Joseph E. Frymoyer of Pottstown ushered.

Spring flowers decorated the High street club where a reception was held for 150 guests after the ceremony.

After June 1, the newlyweds will be at home at 616 Beech street.

The bride was graduated from Pottstown High school and her husband from West Pottsgrove High school. He is employed as a steelworker.

Leona Brown, Phoenixville, announced the engagement of her daughter to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Maxton, Phoenixville.

Miss Brown, who studied at Mont Clare schools, was graduated from Phoenixville High school and currently is employed as a nurses' aide at Phoenixville hospital.

Her fiance, who also attended Phoenixville High school, was graduated from the Drexel Institute of Technology with the Class of 1952.

At present, he is an accountant associated with the Container corporation of America.

No date for the wedding was announced.

Women of Moose Plan Kid's Christmas Party

Past regents of the Women of the Moose met in the home of Loretta McClain, 130 Sunrise lane.

Plans for the children's Christmas party were made.

Hostesses for the next meeting will be Betty Nyman, Marion Houck and Bessie Symons.

It will be held in a form of a doggie roast at 103 North Charlotte street, June 29.

100 Salvation Army Women Hold Mass Birthday Party

Effie Saylor opened the program as fashion commentator for an old time fashion show. Bathing suits, dresses and stockings of former days were shown.

Models were: Mabel High, Shirley Cooledge, Grace Yocom, Lillian PicKar, Betty Weidensaul, Eleanore Trullinger, Marie Fegley, Pearl Swinehart, Gail Massey, Frances Leh and Pauline Linderman.

Birthday tables, arranged by months, were introduced by Mrs. Saylor, with a verse.

Mrs. Leta Gaul was the January hostess, assisted by her grand-daughter, Linda. Decorations included a large snow man cake surrounded by snowball cakes.

Auld Lang Syne was sung by the group. Frank Kurtz accompanied them on the piano.

Decorations for the February table were valentine 'sweethearts' standing in the shadow of silver candelabras. In the center was a pink heart cake.

Hostesses were Fay Speer and Emma Thomas. Women at his table sang, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Dressed in green the March table sang, "My Wild Irish Rose." Marie Hanley was in charge.

Pastel umbrellas provided the favors for the April table. Blue columbine and pink roses were displayed under an arch of ivy.

Hostesses were Isabel Coacher and Helen Emery. They lead the group in singing "April Showers."

Mothers Day was the theme of the May group under Bertha Stephen. Small vases were placed around a figure representing all the mothers.

Pauline Linderman chose as her June theme Father's day. Adorning the table were all father's comforts, his slippers, pipes and high backed chair.

They sang, "What's the Matter With Father—He's Allright?" Favors were copper ash trays.

They sang "Yankee Dooodle," and featured small flags as favors.

Centerpiece on the August table was a log cabin surrounded by live forest trees and other woodland growths.

Mary Overholtzer and Mary Jones lead the group in singing, "Let the Rest of the World Go By."

October's contribution was a Halloween theme done with roses.

Helen Patterson and Berstine Tyson were in charge. Capt. Robert Flinn gave a cornet selection accompanied by his wife.

Cora Beacraft marked off a football field on the table, for the November group and had a large pigskin in the center for decoration. The group sang the Salvation Army victory song.

Refreshments were served, during which Frank Kurtz entertained with music.

May Mart Committee Chairmen, Members Plunge Into Last Minute Preparations As Tomorrow Approaches for Day of Pottstown Hospital Auxiliary's Annual Event

Last minute committe meetings are filling the pre-May Mart days for members of the Pottstown hospital auxiliary as last minute preparations for tomorrow's all-day event get underway.

Among the busiest of the committees this week as the deadline draws near is the group who will decorate the combined High street properties of Dr. C. R. Elicker and the Good Will Fire company for the annual event.

Mrs. A. M. Heifner heads the women who will wield paint brushes and paste pots to give the Mart a festival air. Her co-chairman is Mrs. Stanley Nowacki.

Serving on the decorations committee will be Mrs. George Bullard, Mrs. Eric Burgess, Mrs. Harold Cadmus and Mrs. Hayden Evans.

Mrs. Donald Floyd, Mrs. Russell E. Freed, Mrs. E. V. K. Jaycox, Mrs. Herman Maack, Mrs. Maurice Mosheim, Mrs. Claude Shelton and Mrs. Franklin Wertz.

Highlighting the day's activities at May Mart will be a luncheon fashion show, for which Mrs. Jaycox will be commentator. There will be an evening dinner and a dance afterwards in the Elicker stables.

In charge of the dinner arrangements will be Mrs. C. R. Elicker with co-chairman Mrs. Stanley Gross and Mrs. Sam Keiser.

Working under them will be Mrs. J. Robert Gray, Mrs. Morris Hoffman, Mrs. Pincus Hoffman, Mrs. R. C. Jones, Mrs. Stella Morrison, Mrs. Claude Shelton, Mrs. Kenneth Thompson and Mrs. Harry Sieck.

For piqued appetites between luncheon and dinner, there will be a snack bar manned by the committee under Mrs. Joseph Calabrese.

Committee workers include: Mrs. Mahlon Allen, Mrs. Abraham Bernstein, Mrs. Harry Brennecke, Mrs. Donald Cochran, Mrs. William Derry and Mrs. Parker Grow.

Mrs. Horace Gulden, Mrs. Harry Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Keegan, Mrs. C. S. Leventhal, Mrs. J. G. Ludwick 3d, Mrs. John Maron, Mrs. Thomas McCaslin 3d and Mrs. Robert Miller.

Mrs. Sidney Pollock, Mrs Julius Prince, Mrs. Howard Swavely, Mrs. S. B. Tyson, Mrs. Edward Weimer and Mrs. John Ziegler.

Chairman of the waitress committee is Mrs. Carson C. Potter. Her co-chairmen are Mrs. A. C. Seawell, Mrs. E. V. K. Jaycox and Mrs. George McCormick.

Members are: Mrs. Mahlon Allen, Mrs. Erwin Colver, Mrs. George Cockefair, Mrs. John Dougherty, Mrs. David Detar, Mrs. Morris Gavin and Mrs. Richard Gross.

Clair Haag, Mrs. Leonard Huff, Mrs. Elmer Jackson, Mrs. Frank Keegan, Mrs. Hugh McDevitt, Mrs. Walter McClennen, Mrs. Ralph Merkel and Mrs. Joseph Nunemaker.

Mrs. Douglas O'Dell, Mrs. Julius Prince, Mrs. Raymond Schumacker, Mrs. B. S. Sturges, Mrs. C. S. Stouffer, Mrs. Ralph Spare, Mrs. R. R. Tyson, Mrs. William Wolfe and Mrs. John Ziegler.

Chairman of the garden and vegetable committee is Mrs. Harold Cadmus. Co-chairman are Mrs. C. B. Lerch, Mrs. J. G. Ludwick and Mrs. Leroy Krause.

Members are: Mrs. William Barr, Mrs. Harry Baratz, Mrs. Howard Bartholomew, Mrs. C. C. Burdan, Mrs. William H. Curtiss, Mrs. Robert Ecker and Catherine Endy.

Mrs. Simon Feldman, Mrs. John Hallman, Mrs. Morris Hoffman, Mrs. Pincus Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Irey, Mrs. Earl Levengood, Mrs. William Manship and Mrs. Paul Mogel.

Mrs. Maitland McHenry, Mrs. Abe Pollock, Mrs. Claude Shelton, Mrs. Albert Shute, Mrs. Irving Tubis, Mrs. Chester White and Mrs. William Wolfe.

Trojans, Raiders Try Again

ED GOOD
. . . Like Connie Mack—
'Just One More'

Up until today at least one of the more reliable indications of foul weather has been the hopeful scheduling of Pottstown High's visit to Coatesville in baseball.

The Raider-Trojan scuffle at Franklin field went off without any damp intervention from the weatherman. But officials of the two schools have been trying to outguess the Rainmaker ever since the third game of the season in relation to the date at Coatesville and all to no avail as yet.

The game has been rescheduled "about five times" according to PHS mentor Ed Good. It had been set for yesterday, and then was moved back a day when the Trojan-Berwyn hassel went by the boards Monday. Everything was washed out yesterday, including many riverside cellars, and it's with baited breath that we remind you all that the Trojans are scheduled to visit the Scottmen today at 3:30 in Steeltown's Central park arena.

The past two days' heavy rains have done little in a favorable way for the slow-drying clay diamond, however, and another downfall would foil the schedule-makers again.

But working on the assumption that for once this year the game goes on, the Trojans will be shooting for their 39th win over a three-season span. To hoot, they can clinch a third straight Ches-Mont crown with a win over the twice-beaten Coates.

MIKE KRICZKY bested their lefty Bill Flinn in a tight duel, 3-2, in the teams' other meeting, and then the past Thursday Downingtown dropped the Raiders, 4-2. A defeat today would give the Trojans a three-game lead with but one to play—that against Berwyn Friday here.

The Trojan-Doylestown game will go on sometime next week, probably around Tuesday.

Kriczky, with a 7-0 log for the year, is the choice again today, with Dave Ricketts set for mound work Friday.

Torrents Strip Area of Sports; SS Loop Hit Hard

Virtually every sporting event in the area, with the exception of floating, took a severe beating yesterday from the young monsoon that engulfed the Pottstown vicinity.

Hardest hit was the Sunday School league and its Memorial park home grounds. The park field was nearly completely flooded, and circuit director Morrie Grigg said last night that play would not resume in the league until next Monday.

This week's scheduled tilts in the church circuit will be played on successive Wednesday nights beginning next week.

No game is scheduled for Franklin field this afternoon, but this evening AUW and St. Johns will tangle in a City Baseball league tussle.

There will be no City Softball loop play this evening, director Ed Good announced last night.

The complete Suburban league card was also washed away yesterday, putting that circuit a couple of nights behind schedule. Linfield and Gabelsville hook up in a rescheduled match on the Owls' diamond tonight.

Rothenberger Wins Top Track Award at Juniata

Rothenberger, Middle Atlantic AA broad jump champ and the team's top scorer throughout the season, succeeded his older brother, Jack, as award recipient.

At the same ceremony North Coventry's Fran Wampler received a varsity football letter, former Pottstown High star Lee Hallman was presented with a varsity baseball letter, and Boyertown's Larry Hartline also was awarded a varsity track monogram.

Big Thrill Show Competition at Sanatoga Tonight

The International championship stunt contest, billed as the Tournament of Thrills, will send seven famous thrill show teams into action tonight at the Sanatoga Speedway at 8:30.

Ready to present a 30-event program of competition will be the Joie Chitwood Auto Daredevils, Canadian Aces, Mexican Motorama Thrillcade, Hollywood Stuntmen and the Indianapolis Daredevils. The Texas Lone Stars and the Royal Scots will also have their leading stuntmen present for tonight's show.

Outstanding events in tonight's show include the famous roll-over contest in which stuntmen will roll cars end over end as many times as possible and also the world-famous "aerial rocket car" leap in which Dick Cobb will attempt to jump a new 1953 Ford stock sedan 85 feet from one giant elevation to another while a second car broadsides directly underneath him between the elevations.

All competitive events will be under the rules of the International Stuntmen's association, governing body of the thrill show sport.

Seixas, Four US Ladies in Semi-finals

PARIS, May 26 (AP)—America's number two male tennis star, Vic Seixas, and four U.S. women today won their way into the semifinals of the French International tennis championships.

Seixas, of Philadelphia, slammed his way to a brilliant victory over Australia's young Lewis Hoad, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

America's number one woman player, Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, played ragged tennis in overcoming Mrs. Susan Patridge-Chartrier, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

The other U.S. feminine victories were chalked up by:

Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., defending champion, who conquered Mrs. Jean Rinkel-Quertier of Great Britain, 6-3, 6-3. Miss Hart is ranked second among women players in the U. S.

SHIRLEY FRY, of Akron, O., third ranking U.S. feminine star, over Madame Nelly Adamson of France, 6-1, 4-6, 6-0.

Mrs. Dorothy Head-Knode of Alameda, Calif., over Ginette Bucaille of France, 6-3, 6-0.

Defending men's champion Jaroslav Drobny also advanced to the semifinal round with a 6-3, 6-1, 1-6, 6-4 triumph over Italy's Fausto Gardini.

Levengoods Drill

The Levengood's Knee-Hi team will practice this evening on Far field No. 1 at 6:15 p. m.

Staley Has Lowest ERA Mark In National; Ford Leads AL

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Veteran pitcher Gerry Staley of the St. Louis Cardinals, has forged to the front in the National League earned run listings. Southpaw Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees continues to top the American League in ERA effectiveness.

Statistics compiled by the Associated Press today disclose that Staley has permitted 13 earned runs in 62 innings for a 1.89 mark. Ford sports a 2.06 average, having allowed 11 runs in 48 frames. Figures include Monday's games.

The Redbirds' righthander has won six straight games after losing his first start and in his last outing on Sunday he blanked the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0. Last season Staley posted a 3.26 earned run average, 15th lowest in the National loop.

Ford, returning to the Yanks after two years in the Army, has a 3-0 record, including one shutout. He has been knocked out of the box in his last two starts, however, allowing six earned runs in 7 2/3 innings.

Runnerup to Staley in the National League is knuckleball artist Hoyt Wilhelm of the New York Giants with a 2.20 average. Wilhelm, last season's leader with a 2.43 mark, has yielded 11 earned tallies in 45 innings.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell of the St. Louis Cardinals ranks third with a 2.30 ERA. The young lefty has given up 11 earned runs in 43 innings.

WARREN HACKER of the Chicago Cubs, second to Wilhelm in 1952, occupied fourth at 2.49, followed by Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils in fifth at 2.51.

Behind Roberts came Max Surkont of Milwaukee, 2.70, Curt Simmons of Philadelphia, 2.80 and Johnny Lindell of Pittsburgh, 3.33.

Virgil Trucks of the St. Louis Browns is challenging Ford for American League ERA supremacy. Trucks, who hurled a pair of no-hit games for the Detroit Tigers last season, has permitted 16 earned markers in 67 innings for a 2.15 average.

Marvin Grissom of the Boston Red Sox holds down third place with a 2.18 mark. Grissom, obtained from the Chicago White Sox during the Winter, has allowed eight runs in 33 frames.

Alex Kellner of the Philadelphia A's is next at 2.34 and Connie Marrero of the Washington Senators rounds out the first five with a 2.63 ERA.

Following Marrero are Joe Dobson of Chicago, 2.73, Carl Scheib of Philadelphia, 2.77, and Early Wynn of Cleveland, 2.90.

Munger First American to Bow in Amateur

HOYLAKE, England, May 26 (AP)—Jack Munger, veteran Dallas, Tex., golfer, was eliminated in the third round of the British Amateur golf championship today, bringing the first break in the ranks of top-flight American stars.

Munger, playing his second match of the tournament, lost, 2 and 1, to A. M. Bucher of Scotland. He had reached the third round yesterday by beating Thomas Bylne of England, 6 and 5.

The defeat of Munger came after other American stars, including defending champion Harvie Ward of Atlanta, two time winner Frank Stranahan of Toledo and Frank Strafaci of Hempstead, N. Y., and Bob Sweeny of Palm Beach, Fla., had won their opening matches.

Chitwood Off For '500' Race

HATFIELD, May 26 — Having completed preparations for his first AAA big car auto races under lights here at Hatfield speedway, this Sunday night, speedway manager Joie Chitwood planned to take off tomorrow for Indianapolis and the 500-mile speedway race there on Memorial day.

Chitwood's premature departure was occasioned by the fact that he is slated to serve as pit manager for one of the speedway cars—the famed Chapman special—in the event the car gets in the race. The Chapman Offy was chauffeured last year by one-legged Bill Schindler. A sister car was piloted by Chitwood himself in his last appearance at the speedway in 1949.

Weeks ago, Chitwood promised McCoy he would serve as his pit manager in the event McCoy qualified for the race. The suggestion brought immediate approval from the Chapman interests which headquarter in Tulsa, Okla.

Get 3 Tackles

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League got three rookie tackles today from the Los Angeles Rams.

In exchange, the Steelers will give the Rams their fourth choice, in the January, 1954, player draft.

Six teams will compose the Perkiomen Valley Little league this year commissioner Mike Hader announced recently, in releasing a 42-game schedule for 12-15-year-old circuit.

Affiliated with the American Legion Knee-Hi system, the league is in its second year of operation. This season the members will be the Perkiomen Yankees, Perkiomen Dodgers, Perkiomen Indians, Graterford-Rahns Phillies, Collegeville Legion and Schwenksville Legion.

The Yanks' home games will be at the East Greenville park, the Dodgers, at Perkiomen school and the Indians, at the Green Lane school.

League play opens June 1 with the Indians visiting the Yanks and will continue on to July 22.

Fourth row: coach Charlie Wisner, Paul Browne, Dennie Astheimer, Bob McClintock, Jim Gibbons, Joe Reider, Paul Zirkel, Marshall Sager, Ed Sobresky and managers Neil Mahr and Dick Stoudt.

Saxton, Miceli Both Have Kid On Their Minds

DETROIT, May 26 (AP)—Like all good welterweights, Johnny Saxton and Joe Miceli, who meet in a 10-rounder at Olympia Stadium tomorrow night, have only two words on their mind:

"Kid Gavilan."

Both the New Yorkers want a shot at Gavilan, the welterweight champion. This televised fight (10 p. m., EDT), should help one or the other along the title path.

Saxton, undefeated in 39 pro fights, is ranked No. 4 among the welterweights. Miceli is No. 6.

SAXTON beat Miceli April 21, 1950, at the St. Nicks Arena in New York. It was a rousing fight, with Miceli taking the first five rounds and Saxton rallying to score three knockdowns and take a split decision.

Miceli hopes to avenge that setback.

Under Michigan boxing rules, if there's no knockout, the fight will be judged by points, with the referee and two judges voting. Each round is worth 10 points, to be divided as seen fit.

Nats, Bums Swap Wood and Mauro

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Washington Senators today swapped outfielder Ken Wood to the Brooklyn Dodgers for outfielder Carmen Mauro. It was a straight player trade.

Wood is to report to Montreal, Brooklyn's farm team in the International league. A right-handed hitter and thrower, Wood has played in 12 games this year and has a .212 batting average. He hit .226 last year.

Mauro is to join the Washington club in New York, tomorrow night. He bats left, throws right, and has seen little action with Brooklyn.

The Phillies Pitch

By BILL DOOLY

IT appears to a scholar who has studied the schedule — and to figure the schedule this year you have to be a scholar — some quite interesting baseball people will presently be on view in Philadelphia. First will be Leo Durocher and the New York Giants for a one-day stand, Sunday, May 31.

BILL DOOLY

Leo and his intrepid troupe will hardly be gone before the inimitable Eddie Stanky, supported by an entire summer stock company, known as the St. Louis Cardinals, moves in for a three-day run — 2 night dates — and a twi-night doubleheader. As well as featuring Stanky in his renowned "delayed-action" routine, the Cardinals will also have with them such bit players as Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst, Enos Slaughter, Solly Hemus, Del Rice, Vinegar Bend Wilmer Mizell.

Too long have the Phillies been away, barring a fast-week-end with the Brooklyn Dodgers. (Certainly a memorable week-end, it might be inserted here). Now, however, ready or not, the Phils are going to be confronted with a series of ball clubs that wish them nothing but the worst.

When Stanky and his entourage leave, a ball club with the strange, outlandish title of the Milwaukee Braves moves in. These transplanted New Englanders, as they turn out to be, were with us for a quick one-night glimpse on May Day. They are returning for a three-day tour starting Friday night, June 5, and closing with a double-header, Sunday, June 7. Saturday, June 6 is Ladies Day (ladies pay only tax).

Oddly enough, when they were playing in and out of Boston, these almost self-same Braves were most agreeable. One could readily discern they meant no harm, had not the slightest intent to make a nuisance of themselves. They had the ideal approach to life. Live and let live.

The attitude seemed to be — well, chucks, if you feel that way about it and want to win, all the time, the Braves weren't going to make an issue of it. Unfortunately, the Braves don't look at it that way any more. Loaded with fence-denters like Mathews and Wilmington's own Bill Bruton, they've come down with the questionable proposition that sometimes they ought to win.

Pretty deplorable all around . . .

Cubs Rally to Gain Split with Cards

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs swarmed suddenly on Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell to wipe out a two run deficit and beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2, for a split in a doubleheader today.

The split dumped the Cards 1½ games behind the National League's front-running Milwaukee Braves who downed Cincinnati, 6-0.

St. Louis won the first game, 6-3, with an 11-hit barrage that included a homer and two singles by Red Schoendienst.

Turk Lown went the distance in the second game, recording his first triumph. He checked the Cardinals on six hits, two of them homers by Mizell and Enos Slaughter. The victory was only Chicago's seventh in 25 games.

Schoendienst sparked the second placers to a 1-0 lead in the first round of the opener with his fifth homer off starter Bob Shultz. He smashed a two-run single during St. Louis' three run second.

Warren Waxes Shutout

Braves Stretch Lead to Game and a Half As Spahn Blanks Cincinnati Redlegs, 6-0, on Four Hits

MILWAUKEE, May 26 (AP)—Warren Spahn, the Milwaukee Braves' ace left-hander who has been idle due to injuries, regained top form today in pitching a brilliant four-hit 6-0 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

The victory moved the pace-setting Braves 1½ games ahead of the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals who split with Chicago.

Spahn, pitching his first complete game since his long layoff, gave the National League leaders a clean sweep in their three-game series with the Redlegs. Against the Chicago Cubs Saturday he allowed 11 hits before he was taken out after facing two batters in the seventh inning.

The Braves' lefty was invincible today before the season's smallest Milwaukee crowd—8,720 paid and 3,297 ladies. And his teammates' active bats gave him a comfortable margin to work on.

The Braves treated four Cincinnati hurlers as if they owned them, slapping 15 hits with every man in the lineup getting at least one. Jack Dittmer paced the assault with three.

The shutout was the 28th of Spahn's career. Only active National League pitchers with more shutouts are Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger and Chicago's Dutch Leonard.

Gus Bell and Bob Borkowski were the only Redlegs to touch Spahn. Bell slammed a pair of doubles and Borkowski a two-bagger and a single.

Spahn, boasting a 4-1 record, was in trouble only once. The Redlegs filled the bases with one out in the seventh but Grady Hatton flied to centerfield and Johnny Temple's pinch-hit fly ball was grabbed by Andy Pafko in a sensational catch in short right-center.

Milwaukee had men on base in every inning against starter Howie Judson and three reliefers—Harry Perkowski, Ernie Nevel and Jack Collum. Judson was tagged with the loss after giving up three runs and eight hits.

Despite the small crowd, the league-leading Braves' home attendance for 15 gates in the County Stadium climbed to 335,832.

Doby's Homer Cools Tigers, 9-8, For Tribe's Fourth Straight Win

CLEVELAND, May 26 (AP)—Larry Doby homered in the ninth inning tonight to give the Cleveland Indians a 9-8 triumph over the tail-end Detroit Tigers. Bobby Feller was cruising to victory when the Tigers routed him with a five run rally in the top of the ninth to tie the score.

The victory was the second place Indians' fourth straight and it moved them to within 2½ games of the front-running New York Yankees who were idle.

Until he was relieved with two out in the ninth Feller appeared sure of getting his first victory in a month in spite of Don Lund's fifth-inning homer and two-run triple.

The Tigers were trailing, 8-3, when Feller hit Joe Ginsberg with a pitched ball to start the ninth. Ginsberg advanced on Fred Hatfield's single and pinch hitter Pat Mullin's fly and scored on a fly by Gerry Priddy. Kuenn singled and scored back of Hatfield on Lund's triple, which brought Hooper in to replace Feller.

Then Bob Nieman's fly went through rookie Jim Lemon in left field for a three-base error, Lund scoring, and while shortstop Ray Boone fumbled Lemon's throw-in, Nieman came home with the run that tied the game at 8-8.

The Indians cashed in on a Detroit error and a wild pitch by Ray Herbert in a four-run rally that broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh.

Detroit tied it in the fourth on Hatfield's double after Dropo walked and was sacrificed to second by Ginsberg. In the next inning the Tigers took the lead for the only time during the game on Lund's homer.

Delaware Park Opens Friday; Delaware Oaks Renewed Sat.

Among the foremost candidates already on the grounds for the rich Delaware Oaks to be renewed here this Saturday, in addition to Calumet Farm's Bubbley and Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Cerise Reine, are James Cox Brady's Secret Meeting and Plumed. The Oaks is the second of fourteen stakes to be decided during the 32-day meeting; the traditional Wilmington Handicap highlighting the opening day's program Friday.

Secret Meeting, a homebred daughter of Alibhai and Burgoo Maid, came into prominence as a result of her impressive victory in the Acorn Stakes at Belmont Park. Secret Meeting defeated eleven other fillies in the one mile fixture, including Mrs. Ben F. Whitaker's Grecian Queen. Plumed, an Alsab filly, has been campaigned lightly and was a recent graduate from the maiden ranks.

The first draft of horses to represent Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords at the 32-day Delaware Park meeting, which opens Friday, is expected at the Stanton oval the middle of the week, with more looked for toward the end of the week. Mr. Jeffords campaigned the leading money-winning stable at Delaware's 1952 meeting and his noted mare, Kiss Me Kate, again is named for the New Castle Handicap—world's richest race for fillies and mares with $100,00 added for its July 4th renewal—which she captured last season.

Byrne Wins Second

White Sox Hand Browns Ninth Straight Loss, by 8-2 Count

ST. LOUIS, May 26 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox handed the St. Louis Browns their ninth straight loss tonight as southpaw Tommy Byrne gained his second victory of the year. The Sox pounded out 14 hits to earn an 8-2 decision.

Byrne needed help from Mike Fornieles in the sixth when the Browns loaded the bases with only one out. He retired Roy Sievers and Jim Dyck on infield outs with only one run scoring.

Ferris Fain paced the Sox with his third home run of the season and two singles. He drove in three runs.

It was his long fly which permitted Chico Carrasquel to score from third base in the first inning. Fain pounded out a bases-empty homer in the third, then singled to start a fifth-inning rally which netted four runs. Minnie Minoso's double drove in two runs during the rally and Bud Sheely's single, following a wild throw by Clint Courtney, drove in the other two.

Fain then singled in the eighth inning following a triple by Jim Rivera to account for the final Sox run.

Both St. Louis runs were scored against Byrne. Johnny Groth's single drove in Courtney in the fourth and Bill Hunter scored on Sievers' infield out in the sixth.

CAN'T BEAR TO LOSE—Boyertown High's Bearette softballers, pictured above in a group, haven't lost a game since 1950, winning three straight sole Perkiomen Schuylkill circuit crowns and tying for the top in '50. In all, coach Helen Wyse' girls have won 52 games out of 53 over the past six years. This year's edition has in it, first row (left to right). Pat Long, Shirley Yergey, Pauline Melcher, Anna Jordan (captain), Janet Moatz, Diane Smith and Eleanor Fritz. Second row: Dot Latshaw, Peg McCall, Margaret Eisenhart, Gloria Fleming, Connie Moyer, Eva Reidenauer, Roseann Drabinsky. Third row: Sherril Sell (mgr.), Rosemary Lignelli, Elizabeth Brunner, Mary Griesemer, Dot Matz, Fay Moser, Eleanor Body, Carolyn Sell, and Janice Quigley (mgr.). Fourth row: Anna Knepp, Barbara Brock and Pat Harrison. Miss Jordan led the team with a .516 batting mark in eight games. Misses Moatz and Fleming tied for second, each with .406.

Knuckler is Dead — Fingertip the Fad

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Knuckle ball my eye!

They say Johnny Lindell has come back to the major leagues at 36 with a knuckle ball. They say Hoyt Wilhelm led the National League pitchers in least earned runs with a knuckle ball. They say Dutch Leonard, who has just turned 13, has been throwing a knuckler longer than anyone.

Don't you believe it.

Pictures, closeups at that, prove it.

The kids in the sandlots would have a hard time trying to throw a knuckle ball. It should have been explained to them long ago.

FRED Fitzsimmons, coach with the New York Giants, won 217 games in the majors. He was one of those rare knuckle ball pitchers. He used his knuckles.

Remember how he wheeled around after rearing back? Well, as Fitz explains it, he was throwing a sidearm knuckler that broke like a curve. When he threw overhand or with a three-quarter motion his knuckler would break downward.

"Nowadays these fellows call theirs the wobbly type," says Fitz. "It doesn't turn like a curve. It floats. Some of them call it a floater. They never know which way it will break. Sometimes it breaks down and sometimes it breaks up. That's why they are so hard to catch.

"When I threw a knuckler—the right way—I pushed my two fingers forward and usually knew where the ball was going."

Wilhelm, who won 15 games as a 29-year-old rookie and saved numerous others last season, and Leonard both throw their pet pitch by placing two fingers on top of the ball. Lindell goes them one better. He uses three fingers.

"I used to throw it on the side lines just for fun when I was an outfielder with the Yankees," says Lindell, who batted .500 in the 1947 World Series. "In the last two years I've talked to Fitzsimmons about it."

LINDELL and Fitz both live in Arcadia, Calif., in the winter.

Lindell keeps the fingernails on his right hand very short so that he can get a better grip on the ball with his finger tips.

Johnny may have won 24 games when he helped pitch Hollywood to the Pacific Coast League pennant but with the inept Pittsburgh Pirates he's going to find that nothing he throws may not work so well in the majors.

STORM KNOCKS POWER OUT, FLOODS ROADS

creek rose seven inches in a half hour.

The Swamp Creek also was troublesome, flooding Swamp pike near Swamp hotel.

And along Route 100, south of Boyertown, Richard Cook reported that Ironstone creek had risen enough to give cars trouble fording the water spilling over the road near the bridge at Colebrookdale. The 29 rooms of Colebrookdale manor apartments, where Cook lives, were without electricity for an hour and a half, from a shot of lightning.

In the borough, one of the worst trouble spots seemed to be along Queen street, just behind Memorial hospital. Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said an overloaded storm sewer at that low point caused flooding of yards of six homes.

SPOT CHECKS indicated that several hundred homes probably had been flooded to various depths, from the four or five inches that got into the basement of Bell Telephone company's King and Penn streets office (where records are kept) to the several feet reported by Russell Cullum, 281 Prospect street, as being in the basement of a half-finished house at Prospect and Spruce streets.

As did many other householders, Cullum said he had the pump in his own cellar working throughout the morning.

At Hanover and Diamond streets, the intersection was littered with washed-away gravel.

After checking eight trouble spots after lunch, Borough Manager Gulden said he believed most of the water had receded. "Lots of storm sewers were overloaded," he said:

Although he mentioned that the soaked condition of the ground aggravated the effect of yesterday's cloudburst, he held out no false hopes that storm-sewer trouble wouldn't recur.

THE BOROUGH MANAGER pointed out that each time a street is paved, a field cleared of vegetation or a house built, the rainwater has that much less to keep it from speeding to the storm sewers. Unless storm sewers are changed, the "critical" point will be reached more and more quickly after a storm, he asserted.

A brighter, short-range future was painted by Peacock, the weatherman. He said it would be partly cloudy and a little warmer today, with the temperature in the middle 70's. No more rain is in sight right now.

Peacock added that, though we've had plenty of rain this month, we have a long way to go to break the record for May. The record is more than 13 inches, set in 1894.

While most of the people were right when they blamed the storm for electrical troubles, engineers at Firestone Tire and Rubber company proved themselves wrong. A third of the plant was without power for three minutes at noontime. Engineers found it wasn't the lightning but a minor problem within the system.

—Mercury Staff Photo

WATER SLOWS TRUCK—The 35 mile-an-hour sign doesn't mean anything to anybody along Swamp pike as a truck crawls through the water that flooded the highway from Swamp creek. This view is looking east near Swamp hotel. The picture was taken after the day's second storm brought the morning's rainfall total to 2.20 inches.

—Mercury Staff Photo

NICE FOR A PICNIC—If they had some rowboats to rent, the owners of these yards on the south side of Queen street behind Memorial hospital could operate a picnic park. The water is running from Queen street, where a storm sewer couldn't stand the strain of a rainfall of more than an inch in only one hour. Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said six homes were affected here.

Albert Spalding, Violinist, Is Dead

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Albert Spalding, 64, world-famous, American born violinist, died suddenly today in his New York apartment.

Spalding, who retired from active concertizing in 1950, also was the author of a novel, "A Fiddle, a Sword and a Lady."

He had a home on Captiva island, Lee county, Fla.

Spalding was a member of the famous Chicago sporting goods family. His father, the late J. Walter Spalding, was a founder of the company and he himself was a stockholder.

President, First Lady Will Fete 1000 Veterans

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will be hosts tomorrow at a White House garden party for about 1000 veterans who are patients at hospitals in the Washington area.

Present also will be vice President Nixon, members of the Cabinet and their wives, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the World War I President.

Taft Urges US Drop UN in Korea Talks

CINCINNATI, May 26 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft tonight urged that this country abandon the United Nations in Korean negotiations and conduct them on its own.

The Senate majority leader branded the UN as an ineffective agency to prevent aggression, and as such, "might as well be forgotten for the moment."

The Ohio Republican, who occupies an influential post as a member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said "we should do our best" to negotiate the truce in Korea, "and if we fail, then let England and our other Allies know we are withdrawing from all further peace negotiations in Korea."

Safety Man Predicts 240 Holiday Deaths

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP)—The National Safety council estimated today traffic will kill 240 persons over the Memorial Day weekend unless the public heeds the warning to "honor the dead but protect the living."

"A holiday dedicated to the memory of our war dead is desecrated when careless driving causes further bloodshed and tragedy," H. H. Dearborn, council president, said.

Immigration Board Asked to Lift Ban

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Barring British pacifist Stuart Morris from the US would violate the spirit of the Bill of Rights, the Board of Immigration appeals was told today.

Morris, general secretary of the Peace Pledge union, was denied entry the past week. An immigration officer ruled that his lecture tour for the American Friends Service committee would cause him "incidentally to engage in activities which would be prejudicial to the public interest or endanger the welfare or security of the US."

Under the McCarran Immigration act, this is grounds for keeping him out of the country.

Heavy Thunderstorms Sweep State; Small Streams Reach Flood Levels

By The Associated Press

Heavy rains and thunderstorms swept Pennsylvania Tuesday.

Many small creeks and streams reached flood stage. Streets and highways in some sections were flooded. Extensive crop damage was reported and power failures were frequent.

The Federal-State flood forecasting service at Harrisburg had listed a 100-mile stretch along the Susquehanna river's West branch from Clearfield to Lock Haven as a possible high water area—but noted later there was no flood danger.

It cited the excessive rainfall since Monday night as likely to cause some flood conditions — particularly around the Bald Eagle creek watershed in the Lock Haven area.

But the Susquehanna, the Juniata, the Delaware, the Lehigh, the Schuylkill, the Allegheny all rolled merrily along, absorbing the extra water flow pouring from mountain streams and creeks, and staying well below their flood stages.

THERE WAS HIGH water in some sections. On State Route 220, at Milesburg, east of State College, Bald Eagle creek overran its banks and traffic slowed in the one-inch deep water covering the highway.

State College reported the biggest one-day rainfall in 60 years—3.29 inches fell Monday night and Tuesday.

Philadelphia was struck by a heavy downpour—1.32 inches of rain—causing sewers to back up, flooding streets. Some damage was reported from lightning.

The weatherman said it would be clear, though cloudy, Wednesday.

At Shamokin, a large amount of property damage was reported when three sudden and intense downpours washed tons of hard coal culm from collieries into yards and onto highways.

THE BLACK MASS of rock, slate, coal and dirt was nearly five feet thick at one point on Cameron street on the outskirts of Shamokin.

Fisherman's Paradise, a popular one-mile stretch for trout fishing near Bellefonte was closed Tuesday by the Pennsylvania Fish commission because of high water conditions.

C. A. French, the commission's executive director, said it was the first time in the 20-year history of the stream that it had been shut down during the special season. He said it will be closed through the weekend.

French said the project "will remain closed until the waters have receded and until the necessary repairs have been made to retaining banks, roads and other property."

SPEED Is the Killer!

Will a wreath, meant to decorate the grave of someone long dead, adorn your own?

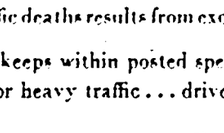

A gruesome thought, of course! But not nearly so gruesome as the thought of the lives sacrificed to speed every Memorial Day!

One out of three traffic deaths results from excessive speed.

But if every driver keeps within posted speed limits . . . makes allowances for heavy traffic . . . drives with extra alertness and caution . . . this Memorial Day need not take a tragic toll on our highways.

Pennsylvania has a responsibility to its more than ten million citizens. To make our roads as safe as possible for all our people—Pennsylvania strictly enforces its speed laws.

YOU CAN COOPERATE WITH US BY FOLLOWING THE BEST TRAFFIC RULE OF ALL—THE GOLDEN RULE. TAKE TIME TO HAVE A HAPPY MEMORIAL DAY.

This is NOT a license to kill or injure.
It will be revoked or suspended for cause.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A WASHINGTON BIGSHOT was tendered a banquet on an Indian reservation and the aborigines put on all their war paint and regalia to give him a show. The V.I.P. was particularly impressed with the chief's elaborate costume. "That's a beautiful piece of mink attached to your belt," he told the chief. "Where did you trap it?" The chief was just about winding up to tell a whopper when his squaw grunted, "Trap nothing! He cut it off my old fur coat."

When publisher Richard Walsh, Jr., cast his first ballot in a local election, he took along his summa cum laude Harvard diploma (written in Latin) to prove his eligibility. The examiner rejected it angrily with, 'This thing is in some foreign language; it don't prove nuthin'! You got to take the English test!"

REASON FOR AILING

"I felt so sorry for your wife last Sunday," he said, "when she had that terrible coughing spell. Poor woman, everyone was staring at her."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

$2000 Proceeds Reported at Meeting Of Inter-Community Hospital Auxiliary

Inter-Community Memorial hospital auxiliary elected officers and showed net proceeds of nearly $2000 from projects during the year at its annual meeting Monday night.

Officers, submitted by the nominating committee and elected were:

Mrs. Arthur W. Wolfe, president; Mrs. Charles Lebow, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Carroll Deisher, second vice-president; Mrs. John Diller, secretary; Mrs. Gerald Hilborn, assistant secretary; Mrs. Charles Kates, financial secretary; Mrs. Alex Zenker, recording secretary, Mrs. Ernest Bancroft, treasurer.

Mrs. Leisher, retiring president, reported the Spring dance, card party and individual projects netted the auxiliary $1998.90 for the year.

THE GROUP CONTRIBUTED $1000 for the building fund and $600 for the purchase of three typewriters and a water cooler for the hospital.

Albert Pollick, hospital administrator, thanked the auxiliary and lauded the members for the work they did in raising that amount of money.

Nominating committee for the new officers was composed of Mrs. J. E. P. Burns, Mrs. Joseph Buckwalter, Mrs. Ray Bush, Mrs. Arthur Wolfe and Mrs. Charles Kates.

The auditing committee, Mrs. Rred G. Bangs, Mrs. Lebow and Mrs. Diller, reported the books were in order.

Report of membership committee listed 37 new members during the year.

After the meeting, games were played and prizes were awarded.

Refreshments were served by the executive board: Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Milford Miller, Mrs. Diller, Mrs. Grace Jefferson, Mrs. Thomas Tucker, Marie Hilborn, Mrs. Bancroft, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. Joseph Buckwalter, Mrs. Deisher and Mrs. Wolfe.

Patriotic Order to Change Decoration Day Custom

Following a practice established by various organizations for honoring deceased members, Washington Camp 191 Patriotic Order Sons of America, Spring City, has decided to decorate with flags each Memorial day a burial lot in East Vincent Evangelical and Reformed cemetery.

This plan will supplant the former custom of placing flags on each grave in various cemeteries. The action was taken at a meeting of the camp Monday night.

Accident Occurs as Car Pulls Away From Curb

An accident resulted yesterday afternoon about 4:45 o'clock, when one car pulled away from the curb and another was approaching in front of the Acme market, 300 block of Main street, Royersford.

According to police Joan Carl, 19, Vaughan road, driving a 1948 sedan, was moving away from a parking spot at the same time as Leslie Starkey, 69, Spring City RD 1, was proceeding west in a sedan of the same year.

Both cars were damaged to an extent of more than $100. Patrolman Richard Batturs investigated.

Spring City Man Named Director of Seminary

PHILADELPHIA, May 26 (AP)—Delegates to the annual conclave of the Evangelical Lutheran ministerium of Pennsylvania today picked officers, voting on nominations which had been made earlier.

Directors of the Philadelphia seminary named were: Claude B. Wagoner, Spring City, the Rev. Emil E. Fischer and the Rev. G. Elston Ruff, Philadelphia; the Rev. William R. Seaman, Souderton; Henry C. Groff, Philadelphia; James F. Henninger, Allentown, and Julius A. Schneider, West Hazleton.

DEATHS — FUNERALS

HARRY O. CARLSON, CHELSEA HEIGHTS, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., father of Mrs. Wilbur J. Harley, 354 Washington street, Royersford, died yesterday morning in Atlantic City hospital, of a heart attack several days ago.

Mr. Carlson was a supervisor of Bell Telephone company, where he was employed the past 25 years.

Surviving are his wife, Amelia Carlson, and three daughters: Marie, wife of Raymond Smith, Chelsea Heights; Emily, Philadelphia, and Florence, wife of Dr. Harley, Royersford.

About 4/5 of the bicycle fatalities in the United States involve collisions with automobiles.

SLAYING ENDS BALL GAME—The body of Carmello Olivo lies in dust behind a ball diamond backstop in Central Park, New York, where she was stabbed to death as hundreds watched a ball game. At left, Edwardo Cartagena, who according to police, was her former common-law husband, writhes in pain after angry crowd pummeled him with baseball bats. Mounted police saved him from certain death at hands of the mob, then arrested him in the slaying. Mrs. Olivo is said to have left Cartagena six months ago after a bitter quarrel.

Richard Overdorf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Overdorf, Third street, graduated from Millersville State Teachers college, receiving the Bachelor of Science degree. Mr. Overdorf, who graduated from Pennsburg High school in 1948, has been elected to teach driver training in the Chester schools.

Weather Experts Plan Coronation Forecast

LONDON, May 26 (AP)—Britain's weather experts began mobilizing today for a special advance forecast of London's weather next Tuesday, coronation day.

The forecast will be issued to the press and radio at 2 p. m. (10 a. m. Pottstown time) Friday—four days in advance—after the most exhaustive research ever undertaken by the Air ministry's weather branch.

Forecasts in Britain normally are issued for 48 hours. That's about as far ahead as most weather experts are prepared to risk a forecast.

But with the hopes—and fears—of millions riding on London's weather next Tuesday, the Air ministry decided, with fingers crossed, to issue the special advance forecast.

State Supreme Court Hears Sallade Appeal

HARRISBURG, May 26 (AP)—The State Supreme court today heard an appeal for a new trial for a Potter county man convicted of manslaughter but Chief Justice Horace Stern commented from the bench "the court is not much in sympathy" with the plea.

Charles F. G. Smith, Philadelphia attorney, presented the appeal for Alfred L. Sallade, 32-year-old airport operator, convicted in the slaying of a youth, member of a prominent Philadelphia family.

Smith, claiming prejudice at the trial in Potter county, asked for a new trial in another county.

Sallade is serving a four to eight year term at Western State penitentiary for voluntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Carles P. Van Pelt, 19, of Rosemont Sept. 1.

Church Group to Hear Book Review at Meeting

Mrs. Donald Ayres will review "The Silver Chalice" at a meeting of the Women of the Church in Royersford Grace Lutheran church assembly room tonight at 7:45 o'clock.

Mrs. Herbert Beyer will have charge of devotions. The program will include special music and refreshments.

Officers Are Named By Joint Committee

Stanley Kircher, Upper Frederick school board, last night was elected president of the New Hanver - Upper Frederick joint school committee.

Other officers named at the organizational session were Mrs. Thelma Schmook, treasurer, Upper Frederick board non-member secretary, and Eugene Seasholtz, vice president, Fagleysville independent board.

The joint committee operates the new elementary joint-ure composed of New Hanover and Upper Frederick townships and the Fagleysville and Swamp independent districts. A new elementary school is under construction at New Hanover square.

Serving on the joint committee are Seasholtz, Kircher, Merrill Erb, New Hanover; James Needs, Upper Frederick, and Irvin Heinly, Swamp.

The joint committee will meet again Tuesday.

Radioactivity Spills From Atomic Cloud

RICHLAND, Wash., May 26 (AP)—Radioactivity spilled from Nevada's latest atomic cloud onto this area today in measurable but not alarming density, the Hanford works said.

This is the first time that measurable contamination has been noted here since the series of tests began 700 miles southeast in the farthest corner of Nevada.

Radio contamination teams were sent out from the Atomic Energy project here in the South Central Washington area bounded by Richland, Yakima, Connell and south to Pendleton, Ore.

The fact there were no reports from them in the early afternoon indicated there was no cause for concern, the Hanford works report said.

Barto Firemen Set Plans for Festival

Preparations for the Barto Fire company's annual two-day festival this weekend are complete, Chairman Ralph Gehman reported at last night's meeting.

The festival will get underway at 8 p. m. Friday on the lot adjacent to the fire company. It will be held on both Friday and Saturday nights.

President Thomas Forsythe announced that Ladies auxiliary has installed venetian blinds in the fire house and the social rooms. He added that three new members were accepted into the organization.

WATER RATES TO RISE

HARRISBURG, May 26 (AP) — Three small water utilities in Allegheny, Westmoreland and Washington counties will increase rates of their 222 consumers a total of $2748, effective May 31.

THE GIRLS who served in the queen's court were: Iona Blatt, Nancy Wisneski, Mary Ann Kuchma, Mary Ellen Himes, Sandra Chup, Joyce Kachara, Thelma Hallman, Ros Waytowich, Ruth Ann Morrow, Patt Heffline, Molly Hasson, Dolores Chup, Carol Jean Myers and Judy Brower.

Entertainment for the queen and her attendants was provided by the various grades who performed many quaint dances including the traditional May Pole dance, done by the Fourth and Fifth graders.

Mr. Robert F. Carns, Mont Clare, participated in the Jaycee dogwood festival parade by being the representative for the Red Cross on the Kiwanis float.

Sandra M. Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Barlow of 135 Walnut street, Mont Clare, and Charles Washington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Washington of Port Providence, recently attended the 17th National School Patrol parade, sponsored by the AAA at Washington, D. C.

Red Bomb Scatters Anti-Dulles Leaflets

ATHENS, Greece, May 26 (AP) — A time-bomb containing Communist leaflets urging US Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to "get out of Greece" exploded tonight just outside the Athens police headquarters.

Two persons were injured. The blast sent a shower of the propaganda leaflets hurtling over the area within 100 yards of the police headquarters.

The US Secretary of State, now on a tour of the Middle East, is due in Athens tomorrow from Istanbul, Turkey.

Two Cars Damaged In Intersection Crash

Two young Pottstown RD 3 motorists had the left front fenders of their cars damaged yesterday morning at 6:50 o'clock in an accident at Old State road and Levengood road in Upper Pottsgrove township.

Anna Louise Townsley, 21, made a turn from Old State road to go west on Levengood road, it was reported by Jeffersonville State police, and in doing so, collision occurred with the eastbound car of Francis J. Zielinski, 23.

THREE DIE IN CRASH

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 26 (AP)—Three persons were killed and 11 injured last night when two buses collided near Rancagua, 50 miles from Santiago.

GOOD NAMED —

considered first for the two vacancies.

* * *

IF THE basketball and baseball coaching jobs are filled with current Pottstown coaches then other vacancies will be created.

The board would like to fill all posts as soon as possible.

As athletic director under the new program, Good will be required to teach classes a half day and spend the other half in athletic duties.

He will be paid $800 a year besides his regular teaching salary.

Good brought about the appointment when he stated this past Jan. 20 he was considering relief from his coaching duties.

On March 16 he met with the athletic council and outlined a plan to retain his job as director of athletics and basketball coach and relinquish the baseball coaching.

ON MAY 4 school board uncovered an entirely different plan.

The three-fold board plan included, (1) the athletic director could no longer be a coach at the same time (2) the athletic director would be paid an $800 salary (3) the athletic director would teach classes half a day and take care of the sports program the other half day.

The board appointed Mrs. Mildred M. Walter, formerly of 70 North Franklin street, to the faculty on a temporary professional employe's contract.

Mrs. Walter formerly taught for eight years in Grade 2 at Pottsville.

THE BOARD accepted three resignations. Norman L. Monnett, teacher of one year in the Jefferson school, is resigning to seek a job as a secondary teacher in his field of certification.

Mrs. Alice G. Mitch, a teacher for six years in the Jefferson school, is resigning to accept a position as saleswoman for an encyclopedia firm.

Doris E. Heinly, dietitian, Junior-Senior High school cafeterias for the past two years, is resigning to accept a similar post with the Norristown school district.

The board approved a sabbatical leave for Mrs. Doris G. Larson, teacher in borough schools for the past seven years and teacher with a 12-year service record.

SHE REQUESTED the leave for the 1953-54 school year because of her health. Medical certification was included in her request. She has promised to return to the district after one year. Her salary on leave will be one-half her regular salary.

The board voted to give all 12-month professional employes, except the superintendent of school, the month of July as vacation.

Any deviation from this plan must be approved by the superintendent, but in no case shall vacations for these employes be scheduled after Aug. 15, the board ruled.

THE BOARD approved an eight-point salary interpretation drafted by the teachers' association salary evaluation committee. They were:

1. A college equivalent degree shall be based on a total of 128 undergraduate hours or credits.

2. Only one equivalent degree shall be awarded under the provisions of the teacher schedule, and no further credit increments will be granted.

3. The two experience increments shall be available for those who qualify for equivalent degrees.

4. Only those teachers fully certified for the position held will be eligible for the credit increments of the salary schedule. This rule refers specifically to secondary trained teachers who are employed in the elementary school, who are required to secure additional hours to clear their certification; also those on limited or emergency certificates are affected by this regulation.

5. Any teacher eligible for superannuation retirement who is not at the maximum salary schedule shall be given a double increment, $400, provided retirement is planned for the close of the ensuing year. This rule applies to teachers who have more than 15 years service and rate $400 more than the State mandated maximum. If they are eligible for retirement in one year but require two years to get the additional $400 the district now will give the double increment instead of making them teach the two years.

6. Any vocational certified teacher holding an earned college degree shall be eligible for a master's equivalent degree.

7. A doctor's degree equivalent shall be awarded on the basis of 32 graduate hours above an earned master's degree.

8. After Sept. 1, 1953, all credits to be offered for salary increments must have prior approval of the salary evaluation committee.

Senior High school cafeteria renovation plans were approved by the board.

BIDS WILL be opened at the June 8 session for a hood to be installed with exhaust fans over the cooking area, a food service table and lighting and acoustical treatment of rooms.

The commercial department in the Senior High school will be relocated.

Partitions of two small rooms on the third floor and a large bookkeeping room will be changed to create three rooms of uniform size. The old home economics department on the third floor will be converted into two typing rooms.

Acoustical material will be placed on the ceiling of the typing room. Bids for the work will be opened June 8.

Members authorized the resurfacing of approximately 800 square feet of slate board for the new West End school and voted to resurface additional slate for present buildings.

Secretary Linford F. Moyer read a letter from Pottstown Memorial Day committee, which invited directors to participate in Saturday's observance.

Directors who wish to take part in the activity were asked to meet at the American Legion's George A. Amole Post 47, King and Franklin streets, at 8:45 a. m.

Rohland moved the board officially thank the Pottstown bands and drill teams for their record in the National Automobile Association of America's competition in Washington D. C. this year and during the past five years.

PAUL BUNYANS, ROBIN HOODS 'COME TO LIFE'

Eighth Graders to Portray Characters at Graduation

The Paul Bunyans and the Robin Hoods and numerous other story book characters will "come to life" when the Mont Clare Eighth grade class holds its graduation exercises tonight.

All 24 pupils of the graduating class will take to the stage in the school auditorium a little after 8 p. m. dressed in wearing apparel of the characters they have been reading about since the First grade.

There will be no formal speeches during the exercise; however, the greetings will be extended by honor pupil Judith Walker. The other honor pupil Nancy Morrow, will tell the story of books.

Other activities scheduled will include a history of the class which will be told by Melinda Colwell, Nancy Wisneski and Dorothy Dotts.

THE CLASS PROPHECY is slated to be given by Eileen Feitelson and Iona Blatt, while Sandra Barlow and Phyllis Koffroth present the awards.

Named to read the class will are Richard Crouthamel, Glenn Yerger and Elwood Lee. Special awards will be presented by Mrs. Franklin Bauer, president of the home and school association to the two honor pupils.

Albert Zvarick of the Collegeville American Legion post will make the Legion award presentation, and Richard Crouthamel, member of the school board, will hand out the diplomas.

Seventh graders who will participate in the program include: Joan King, Lora Jane Wood, Rosile Tarpaglia, James Hasson and Rodney Drake. Charles Reustle of one of the lower grades will also take part.

THE REMAINDER of the Eighth grade class who will graduate are: Elizabeth Arters, Priscilla Ferko, Roxie Heck, Nancy Hunsberger, Beverly Lefcallette, Edward Albert, John Burns and Howard Detwiler.

Senator Will Seek Horsepower Curb

HARRISBURG, May 26 (AP) — Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, told the Senate that as the result of a personal experience he will introduce legislation to curb the horsepower ratio of automobiles.

"If we can't trust ourselves to stay within the speed limit on highways of the State, legislation must do it for us," he said.

"The time has come to put legislative restrictions on unlimited auto horsepower — to do the job for automobile makers that they haven't done for themselves."

Dent told the Senate of an accident he witnessed near the Allegheny tunnel of the turnpike in which a woman's car ran out of control and across the medial strip.

When she was employed by Pottstown Shirt company, she was president and held other offices with the Amalagmated Clothing Workers. More recently, she was supervisor for a Philadelphia firm making sportswear.

State Bankers Elect Slate of Officers

Sidney D. Kline, Reading, was elected vice president, Mahlon K. Robb of Bellefonte, treasurer.

The 1500 PBA convention delegates also voted to set up a permanent educational foundation. Purpose of the foundation will be to teach banking personnel, the public and schools "the vital role of banking in the economic life of the country."

Handicapped Girl Wins Gold Medal

PITTSFIELD, Mass., May 26 (AP) — A Berkshire Business college student, Janice M. Butler, 18, of Bancroft, received a gold medal from the Gregg Publishing company today for having attained a speed of 140 words per minute in transcribing shorthand notes.

Janice also can type at an average speed of 50 words a minute.

All very well, you say, but Janice isn't just an ordinary stenographer. She was born without a right hand.

PUPILS' TRIP SET —

be put on this year because pupils decided there would not be enough time, with the trip this week, to put on a good show. Rather than put on a half-finished show, they decided to call it off.

THE 105 SENIORS and six sponsors will leave Pottstown this morning at 8:26 from the Reading terminal.

Tomorrow, a boat trip around Manhattan will take up the morning and in the afternoon they'll make a sightseeing tour of uptown New York, Harlem, Columbia university and the Central park zoo.

THAT EVENING, they'll go through the NBC studios and take in the Jane Picken's radio show

Friday morning will be a free period for the pupils, but in the afternoon they'll make a tour of downtown Manhattan, the Statue of Liberty and Chinatown.

They'll catch the return trip train in New Jersey at 4:45 p. m. and be in Pottstown at about 8:30 p. m.

The six sponsors for the trip will be Eleanor Cornmessor, George L. Hughes, Earl Strange, Alma I. Klink, Bertram P. Scanlin, and Gertrude E. Harley.

In the early days returning servicemen received high school diplomas for work at the school. There were 20 teachers on the veterans school faculty teaching a full curriculum of courses.

FOR THE past two years, Cressman, director of Pottstown vocational school, and Borneman, machine shop teacher, taught classes with George Wentzel, wood shop teacher, and Arthur Emery, mechanical drawing instructor.

Two months ago Wentzel and Emery quit when their courses were discontinued because of low attendance.

They began classes on the evening trade extension program supported by the State. These classes were open to the public. Wentzel and Emery will teach their last extension classes tonight.

Cressman said last night, "We hope to revive the extension program in the Fall."

In the past several years veterans received credit for the courses they completed, but no diplomas were awarded.

CRESSMAN is teaching electricity and radio shop to his last class and Borneman is teaching machine shop. The electric and radio shop formerly were separate courses, but were merged when attendance fell off.

Veterans attended school from 4 to 9 p. m. School was open on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

When Korean vets enrol in the Fall it will be a new experience at the High school. World War II veterans did not attend day classes. All their courses were taken in the veterans' night school.

One official said after last night's session, "The school was a good thing. It was necessary. But I hope we never again will need a veterans school on that scale."

Judge Gets Blessing From Defendant

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 26 (AP) — A 24-year-old Moslem Nigerian exchange student called upon Allah to bless a judge for leniency that may save him from deportation and, he says, tribal execution.

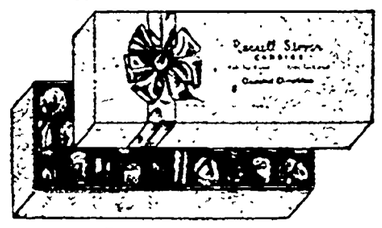

Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes had just placed Mashood Olabisi Ajala on three years' probation on charges of passing checks worth $310.

Federal officials said the Santa Monica city college psychology student was subject to deportation because he was not attending school as required by his visa. He could not attend classes the past three months because he was in jail awaiting disposition of his case.

FIRESTONE OFFICIALS

it really was time I met a Firestone," he smiled.

THE FIRESTONE the two men met was Roger S., president of the Plastics company.

E. T. Handley, general manager of the local plant, brought out in the interview how recent visitors who were working for the company in Spain, were amazed when they saw Roger Firestone's office in the local plant.

The Spanish group related how in that country they had enormous offices with ankle deep rugs and floor-to-ceiling windows.

The two Indian visitors, one of whom sports a natty turban and distinguished beard which makes him resemble a brunet Monty Woolley, are in this country actually to brush up on the latest marketing methods, manufacturing processes and industrial procedures.

THE FIRESTONE plant in India is located at Bombay and is not as large as the Pottstown plant, Rao said.

Anand—the man with the beard—almost got into trouble in New York city because of his beard.

As he walked up to his hotel room, he flung open the door and stepped in. A cleaning woman, busily working with her back to him, suddenly turned around, looked up at him, and fainted dead away.

This, however, has not dampened Indian-American relations.

Both men were very favorably impressed with what they'd seen of the country so far.

THEY'LL BE in Pottstown for a few more days then journey up to the Akron, Ohio plant.

The tours should give them enough time to take in New York city and more of Washington, D. C., before they leave on July 15.

They came here via plane to England and the Queen Elizabeth to New York. They'll go back the same way.

Rao has been with the Firestone plant for 28 years; Anand for 25 years.

They don't worry about the odds of 1300 cars to one person in India. They do marvel, however, at the three-to-one ratio that exists in this country.

The odds are cut down somewhat by the difference in population; India's more than doubles this country's.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1953

A Pottstown Godsend

THIS isn't Thanksgiving Day, or even close to it.

But we couldn't help but think today how thankful Pottstown must be that the Firestone Tire and Rubber company established its huge plant here.

What a blessing it has been to this community! And in so many ways!

The only forerunner to its arrival were secrets shared by company officials and newspapermen that Firestone was dickering to purchase the Jacobs Aircraft No. 2 plant from the US government, which built it.

The purchase was made and Firestone planned to build tires here. In its infancy, the firm faced many problems, the toughest of which was an employment headache.

Early restlessness resulted in some labor difficulties. But soon that restlessness was calmed by pride in work and loyalty to a famous firm. Today the workers have matured. It's almost safe to say Firestone has a happy family now.

Because the Pottstown labor market couldn't take care of Firestone's needs, the firm had to recruit its help from far and wide. That brought many a fine family to Pottstown. The Firestone worker sank his roots into local soil by buying a house and by becoming a civic-minded Pottstonian.

Proud should be Pottstown, too, because of the top executives brought here from Akron, Ohio, and other Firestone communities. The top echelon was just that. Tops.

After a rather slow start to overcome their strangeness to this Pennsylvania community, the top executives warmed up to points where they purchased homes, built others, and then entered wholeheartedly in civic affairs.

It's fine to see Firestone men in borough council, on school board authorities. It's refreshing to see Firestone men leading club activities, it's exhilarating to note their wives plunging into hospital work, joining charity drives.

Today Firestone is Pottstown's largest firm. It employs 2650 workers. Firestone has a weekly payroll of more than a quarter of a million dollars. (That's $13 million a year!)

Those $13 million, or the largest part, is spent right here in Pottstown to make for better churches, bigger schools, and, of course, in our mercantile establishments. Firestone, truly, is the lifeblood of this community.

What's more, it's likely to remain the best plant in town. For Firestone here has become one of the biggest producers of plastics and plastic products. It is the center of an industry whose limits are boundless!

Firestone's a boon. Pottstown certainly should be proud of it, thankful that it came here!

No Worry Here

WASHINGTON politicos are battling to balance the budget. Latest move, according to a story in yesterday's Mercury, was to lop $10 million dollars off President Eisenhower's request for funds to build hospitals.

First worry of Pottstonians: Will this retard construction of the Pottstown hospital, which is so dependent on a Federal grant.

There's no need to worry. Pottstown hospital's funds are included in a little nest egg of $172 million left unexpended from previous appropriations of $500 million. So when Pottstown needs the money, it'll be there.

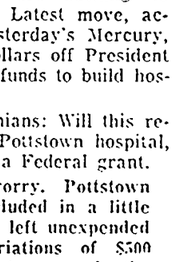

Pottstown hospital executives are a bit harried by a strike among carpenters, which is keeping those artisans off the job. But this hasn't retarded work too much, because Jupiter Pluvius, the rain man, has stopped practically all chances for work by his incessant downpours.

Excavation will begin in earnest soon, while work continues in the nurses' home and other plants. So save your tears. Pottstown hospital's doing all right!

Postal Men Rapped; Women Work Hard

Doesn't Like Attitude

To the Editor: Perhaps you can tell me what causes our governmental employes to adopt the attitude they are sitting on top of the world and everyone else should bow low whenever they seek their services.

Take for example, the boys working over at the local postoffice. Seems like they are just like postal workers everywhere, mean and nasty.

Before I go any further, however, I want to let you know that I am not including the mailmen. They are the only real Joes working out of the building.

But the guys behind the cages over there should all be taken out and given a lesson in courtesy. Believe me, they need it. They are as inconsiderate and ill-mannered as they come.

I needn't cite any examples of what I mean. If I did, your paper would not have room to run all of them.

The whole trouble, as I see it, lies in the fact that Uncle Sam comes around regularly with the pay check, and that is all that counts. What else is there to worry about?

They realize only too well that the public is at their mercy. The people must use the postoffice for certain mailing privileges, so why should they worry what treatment they dish out to John Q. Public?

It is a shame. I only wish there was some direct action I could take.

Pottstown LETTER WRITER

Women Who Suffer

To the Editor: "Women Have it soft," says Hard Worker (Readers Say, May 26). I don't agree with this. Some do and so do men.

Hard Worker, if your wife is a neat housekeeper and has your meals when you get home, it is not so easy.

When your days work is done, you go home late and then you sit down and relax.

The wife must clean the table, do the dishes, and straighten up the kitchen.

You say you do the same thing every day. So is house work the same thing.

Hard Worker, when you have your vacation, why not take over the house work. Then you will really find out what house work is.

If she does everything; laundry, marketing, cleaning, cooking, and is neat about your home, you do it. Then you will really find out, it don't stay clean by itself. You want help about the beating you take at home.

Why not let your wife write to the Editor and tell her side? There are two sides to every story.

I know, I work every day. When it is slack, I have off a few days, for which I am glad. Then I can do my work otherwise I do it Sundays or holidays.

There are very few holidays I have for myself.

Farmer Called Envious

To the Editor: Why is A Farmer ("Frederick Kids Are Hep," Readers Say, May 21) so self-conscious about 'teen-age fads, anyway?

You'd think he spends all his time ferreting out the latest trends in the silly high school styles, the way he talks.

He should be glad he lives in the country, where he doesn't have to worry about fashions, instead of trying to act like a city slicker as though he's ashamed of being an out-of-towner.

I live in Pottstown myself and have yet to see a pair of pink slacks going down High street. If I did see them being worn, I'd be dazzled, too.

This farmer is like some others I've met. He's envious of the fancied benefits of living in town, while the people here in town envy the farmer's independence and dream about having "a little place in the country."

Taxpayer Own Street?

To the Editor: I read in the Readers Say column about that "Disgusted Taxpayer" ("'Y' Parkers a Nuisance," May 25) who thinks people should not park their cars in front of his house because he pays taxes and the men living in the "Y" don't, or at least so he thinks.

He is probably one of those people that put peach baskets or chairs in the parking space in front of their homes whenever they think company is coming in a day or two. He is one of those who acts like he owns the street as well as the house.

All right, if he owns the street, let's fix it up and send him the bill. As soon as he gets the bill, though, he will start hollering that it is a public street.

Ridgway Testifies NATO Defense Is Inadequate

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, May 25—The grand, anti-Russian alliance known as the North Atlantic Treaty organization is now appraised by studious members of Congress as a political and military myth, although its first organizer and commander occupies the White House.

After hours of testimony on Capitol Hill by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, retiring chief of SHAPE, NATO, has been written off by his listeners as a solid defense against a Red invasion of Western Europe.

This suspicion has been supplemented by public statements of Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, who will succeed Ridgway at Paris. It also is borne out by confidential reports of touring legislators and businessmen.

RUSSIAN POWER MENACING: American leaders must still continue to express optimism over the eventual result of this experiment. But their honest statements belie their professional attitude. Ridgway concedes that the European Defense Community is "terribly inadequate," while Gruenther admits that Russian power is "terribly menacing."

A serious thrust westward by the Red horde would see the nations in its path fall more quickly than they did before Hitler's panzer divisions and his dive bombers. There is no force to stop or even hold them, and there appears to be no likelihood that the squabbling allies will build such a bulwark in the next few years.

It is post-Stalin internal stress and their enemies' growing dissension which deter the Reds from attack, according to military and diplomatic estimates. It is not the fear of any resistance that NATO's thin line could offer on the battlefield or in the air.

To present the picture in its realistic and affrighting framework, it is necessary only to quote Ridgway's warning that "for the United States to try to go it alone would mean inevitable disaster!"

This is the cruel problem which President Eisenhower faces after less than six months in the White House. It also is a situation concerning which the American people need more facts than they now possess.

DISPARITY BETWEEN FORCES APPALLING: Despite the expenditure of billions at home and abroad, the disparity between the opposing forces is appalling. It exists in every category of weapons and supplies in every field of combat. Nor is there any prospect of narrowing it, in view of sagging morale, political differences and proposed military economies in the Western world.

The allies, for instance, have approximately 20 divisions—six American, four British, and ten from the French, Dutch and Belgians. But the Anglo-American units are the only ones sufficiently equipped for all too brief action. Even they lack ammunition and gasoline, the most elementary needs of a fighting force. They could not fight for more than a few weeks.

As against this token organization, Moscow has 175 divisions in readiness. Thirty are stationed in the satellite countries of Eastern Europe, with 22 in East Germany alone. In fast and heavy fighting stuff—planes, tanks, motor vehicles, artillery—they are prepared for an immediate offensive.

LOCAL SCUTTLEBUTT has it that Harry Truman's been signed for a television series at an unprecedented fee. The format stars the ex-President as a sort of roving MC, reporting on the American scene. Producer Martin Stone — who also does "Howdy Doody" and "Author Meets the Critics"—is the one supposed to have set the deal.

This may come as a shock to Jose Ferrer—but the leading contender for the title role in John Huston's "Richard III" is Marlon Brando.

JACKIE GLEASON will unveil the most ambitious television production number ever staged on his May 30 show. He's written—are you ready?—an original tone poem in four movements, "Tawny" by title, and will present it with 65 dancers and 50 musicians. The number will run for 15 minutes—at $2000 a minute! . . . Steve Allen's ex-wife phoned him last week to tell him she'd been quietly married in California.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I follow your column daily in our local newspaper," he began, "but one of the fellows at the plant gets a newspaper from his home town 100 miles away.

"In my newspaper, for example, every sex case appears, but in his newspaper, they are occasionally deleted, or a substitute case is run instead.

No, people rarely complain nowadays about my sex cases. And even when this column first started 18 years ago, they seldom objected.

* * *

CERTAINLY IT IS perfectly proper to let an educator discuss sex problems in a constructive column which endeavors to promote happy marriage and prevent divorce, juvenile delinquency, and crime.

In fact, these newspapers have actually taken the lead in teaching America the scientific facts for insuring happy homes.

"BUT YOUR BULLETIN 'Sex Problems in Marriage' taught me far more than those two semesters in college."

Maybe you think this coed is unduly complimentary! So send for that medico-psychological bulletin and see if you can match its helpful advice from any other source than this newspaper.

You newspaper readers are out on the actual firing line of life. You are at grips with real problems and you want practical advice.

So be grateful your newspaper has beaten the schools and churches in pioneering to help produce happy homes by offering scientific sexual counsel.

68-Year-Old Locusts . . . When 'Pfingst' Reigned . . .

★ LASTING LOCUSTS—For the benefit of Pottstown area residents who have been catching the 17-year locusts, Mrs. John I. Buchert, Ringing Hill, Pottstown RD 3 reported yesterday that locusts can be preserved indefinitely after they are killed. And she has the proof—ten locusts that were killed in 1885, which also was a year for the 17-year locusts. Mrs. Buchert was a year old then. Her boxful was picked for her by several sisters, of whom Mrs. Norman Mock, Master street, still is living. Mrs. Buchert said that a drop of coal oil was put on the locusts' heads; they were put under a glass tumbler until they died; then were laid on cotton in a cardboard box made for toilet soap. They're still in fine condition, Mrs. Buchert reported. She added that with many families, it was a tradition to save locusts for a child born in a year of the locusts.

★ FESTIVAL—Whitsuntide passed without revelry in Pottstown the past Sunday, but oldtimers, especially farmers, will recall when it was an occasion of big doings in the Pennsylvania Dutch country. It was called "Pfingst" and still may be observed in some parts of Berks, Lancaster and Lehigh counties. Whitsuntide is seven weeks after Easter. Forty years ago it was one of the biggest days for the young people, being one of the marked days of the year as it immediately preceded the commencement of farm work for Summer, and was always looked forward to with great interest and anxiety. Pfingst was observed "up Lititz way" up to about 1915. There the principal events were deer, elk and fox chases, followed by horse races, May queen ceremonies, banquets and religious processions . . . .

THEY'D ACTUALLY have an elk hunt. Harry Snavely, genial proprietor of the famous and ancient Warwick House at Lititz owned "Old Sheridan," an old animal he got as a gift at an Elks' reunion that still could outrun the hounds over a 20-mile course. When Old Sheridan got too old to run, deer replaced him. The fox hunts were preceded by the blessing of the hounds by an old Moravian pastor, in the ancient tradition of the chase. Some of the plain people owned good harness horses and they'd race them, while the last Conestoga horses in the neighborhood valleys figured in pulling matches, which amazed spectators. After the sports there'd be banquets at the Warwick House, birch beer and hot dogs, picnics and minstrels. There were song services in the park and at the churches. Pfingst is seldom mentioned now, but it once was a thrill!

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OFTEN THE doctor can treat and cure a disease even though he may not know exactly what causes it.

New drugs and new uses for older drugs are giving us new leads every day towards better control of some of these medical mysteries.

One of these is ulcerative colitis, long one of the most difficult and disappointing diseases to treat. In this disease, an inflammation of the large intestine produces diarrhea and bleeding.

Sometimes these become so great that they are most difficult to stop and the person is doomed to a life of chronic invalidism.

Many doctors believe that the disease is due to a form of neurosis or nervousness and that psychiatric treatment can help. But the exact cause for the disturbance is unknown.

Many physicians are now taking a radical viewpoint towards ulcerative colitis cases, because of the increased frequency with which cancer develops as a result of this disease.

They are recommending that in some cases the entire large intestine be removed as well as the rectum, and that the person be trained to move his bowels through an opening in the abdomen.

A new drug, salicylazosulfapyridine, has also been used in treating this disease, and investigators have reported encouraging results with it in certain cases.

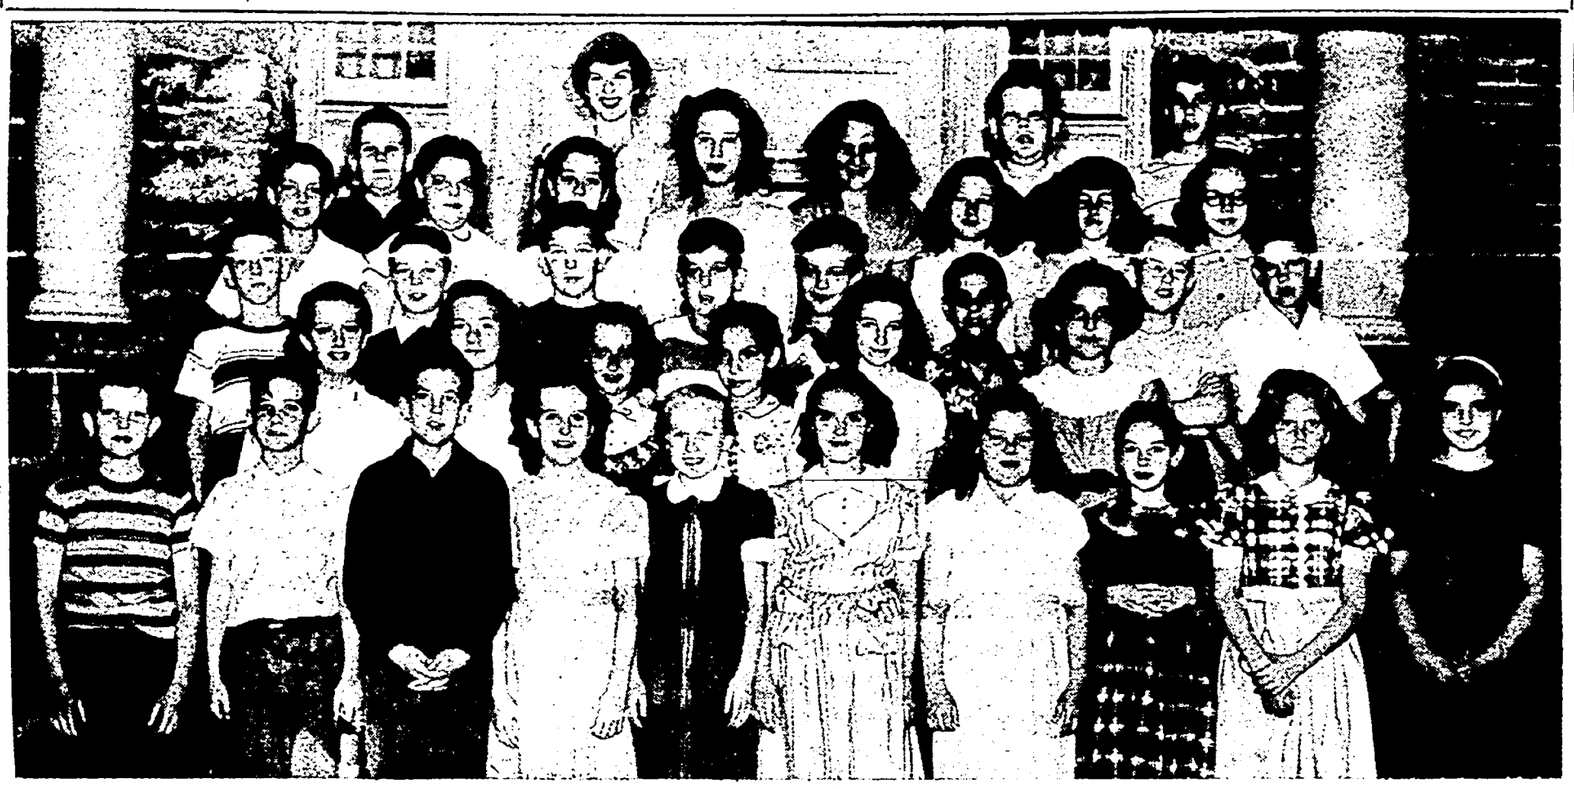

Usually, if a large dose is given, the patient responds promptly with a reduction of fever and diarrhea, and disappearance of abdominal pains.

Along with the drug, the patient must follow a bland diet—that is, a diet without spicy or irritating foods. Usually, the person also takes some vitamins and antispasmodic drugs.

CORONER'S JURY FINDS DEATHS ARE ACCIDENTAL

Inquest Exonerates Man of Criminal Negligence

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, May 26 — The deaths of three men in upper Montgomery county highway crashes were found to be accidental at inquests before Coroner W. J. Rushong at the courthouse yesterday.

The victims were Paul W. Hillegass, 24, North Main street, Red Hill; Willard L. Smoll, 41, of 216 Main street, Red Hill, and Henry O. McColley Jr., 31, of Rio Dell, Calif.

Hillegass and Smoll were killed instantly on the early morning of May 10 when their car, operated by Hillegass, ran into the rear of a parked milk truck on Route 29 in Pennsburg.

Linford R. Faut, 34, of 30 South Franklin street, Pottstown, operator of the truck, was exonerated of criminal negligence by the Coroner's jury after hearing testimony from State Trooper Vincent McGlone, of the Norristown barracks, who conducted an investigation.

The late model sedan was traveling south on the highway when it hit the truck just as the driver hopped off to make a delivery to a nearby customer.

McColley, a chief petty officer in the US Navy, stationed at Philadelphia, was pronounced dead at the scene on May 17 after his car ran off Old Sumneytown road, near Schwenksville, crashed into a tree.

State Trooper Charles Hicklin, of the Norristown barracks, said that McColley's sedan skidded on the wet road while rounding a sharp curve, plunged into a ditch and then rebounded into the tree.

CUB SCOUT PACK HOLDS MEETING

Nature's Backyard Is Theme For Gathering of Boys, Parents

"Mother Nature's Backyard" was the theme of last night's meeting of Cub Scout Pack 53 of Emmanuel Lutheran church. A total of 117 persons attended the meeting in the church recreation room.

Boys of different dens displayed rocks, minerals, leaves, sea shells, live turtles, lizards, butterflies, bird houses, bee wings, pepper plants and a live groundhog.

Among the other displays were a baseball album, a postage stamp album and a scrap book on birds.

• • •

PARENTS WERE addressed by Pack Chairman LeRoy R. Moyer, who spoke on parent co-operation during the Summer months, Committeeman George McLain, who spoke on parent attendance, Assistant Cubmaster Jesse Houck, who told of the theme for June, Robert Yoder, who spoke on finances of the pack, and Oscar Yergey, who told of activities of the pack.

While parents were meeting the Cubs met in charge of Committeeman Thomas Kochel for a uniform inspection.

At the combined part of the meeting, the opening ceremony was in charge of Den Chiefs Barry Rhoads, Gary Ormsbee and William Firth, who were also presented their den chief cords by Assistant Cubmaster Gerald Hartenstine.

Skits were presented by the Den 5.

THE GROUP was led in song by Assistant Cubmaster Houck with the help of David Yergey and Douglas Frick.

Five new boys were received into the pack. The boys are David Gingrich, Jack Sassaman, David Hunter, William and Richard Farmer.

Awards were presented by Pack Chairman Moyer to Dale Rhoads, James McMichael, John Hasselhahn and Jackie Binsfield in Den 3; Billy Keim, Joseph Rutter and Wolfgang Glass in Den 4; Freddie Young and Bryan Boyer in Den 6; Merritt Neiman, Pete Grubb, Douglas Frick and Harry Curry in Den 7, and Thomas Reider and Philip Sotter in Den 8.

DAVID YERGEY was graduated into Troop 15 of Grace Lutheran church. He was received into the troop by Scoutmaster Yerger.

Committeeman George McLain reported the boys of Den 6 received the den attendance award for April.

Jesse Houck then led the group in a Cub Scout story.

Before the closing of the meeting with the Cub Promise, Committeeman William Hillegas announced Den 6 received the parents attendance award for the evening.

Mayor Sentenced To 4-Year Term

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 26 (AP)—Edward C. Peirce, 58-year-old mayor of this textile city of 109,000, was behind bars tonight under a four-year sentence on gambling conspiracy charges.

He was lodged temporarily in the Bristol house of correction—not far from city hall where he had directed the city's activities for more than a year. Tomorrow he probably will be removed to the Norfolk house of correction in Dedham, to which he was sentenced this morning in Fall River by Superior Court Judge Daniel D. O'Brien.

Judge O'Brien denied him a new trial and also a motion for stay of sentence, but there were indications defense counsel might take the case to the State Supreme court.

EAST VINCENT GRADUATION SET

Reading of Class Will, Prophecy Part of Friday Rites

Before the 15 Eighth grade graduates of the East Vincent school move up another rung on their ladder of education, they are going to make sure everything is in order.

Scheduled on their graduation program Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Spring City High school auditorium is the reading of the class will and the class prophecy.

The will will be published by Jack Wagner, Robert Quay and Daniel Neiswender, while the class prophecy, "I Is I," will be announced by James Staufenberg and Allen Himmel.

According to the program, activities will get underway with a processional led by the Spring City High school band under the direction of Robert W. Hallman Jr. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Robert W. Neilson, pastor of the Methodist church, Boyertown.

• • •

EXTENDING THE welcome will be Charles Soltys, and the introduction will be given by Patricia Trythall, Sandra Freas and John Brunner.

Slated to give the class history is Berdella Platt. Barbara Spencer and Nancy Hettrick will follow with the class statistics.

"Moonlight Sonata," a piano solo will be played by Donna Rexrode, while at another point in the program Charles Soltys will render three accordion selections.

An essay, "Music" will be read by Donna Rexrode, and hints to Seventh graders will be expressed by Clarence Collins. The farewell address is to be delivered by Joseph Crossman.

THE PRINCIPAL address of the evening will be given by the Rev. Neilson. Remarks will be made by H. Emmett Latschar, a member of the board, while William Hertzog, assistant county superintendent of schools, will pass out the diplomas.

Speaker during baccalaureate services at St. Vincent's Evangelical and Reformed church, Sunday afternoon was the Rev. Michael R. Schmidt, church pastor. He spoke on "Christ is the Foundation."

Enrolment Completed At Upper Perkiomen

Enrolment of kindergarten and First grade pupils for next Fall was completed yesterday at four Upper Perkiomen elementary schools.

School Superintendent Stanley Kurtz said last night that registration of the youngsters was conducted yesterday and Monday, afternoon and evening sessions.

The enrolment was conducted at the four schools: Green Lane, Red Hill, Pennsburg, and East Greenville.

Final figures on the number of pupils registered wouldn't be available until sometime today, he said.

To the young family man who's thinking ahead-

Here's "big protection" for modest outlay . . . two Farm Bureau policies tailored specifically for young men who want to build careers soundly—and protect their families securely.

Because Farm Bureau works on the principle "more insurance for more people at less cost," these plans were set up to assure you a dependable source of emergency cash—plus a wonderful feeling of family and business security . . . at costs young men can afford.

2 extra-value Life INSURANCE PLANS built just for you!

1 FAMILY INCOME INSURANCE

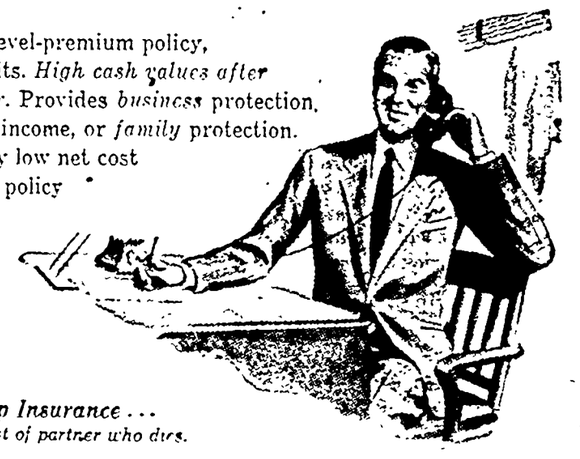

Guarantee an income to your family whether you are here or not. Because you are young, healthy and productive, the premium is low. As the children grow up and your responsibilities grow lighter, the family coverage can taper off, and the plan be converted to a retirement income for you.

Here's How It Works! Suppose you have a wife and two children, aged 3 and 1. If your family is protected under this plan with a $5,000 20-year Family Income Policy—and if your death should occur even in the first year after the policy is issued—your family would receive:

An Emergency Fund of $1,000 (to meet doctors' bills, hospital bills, etc.)	$1,000.00
A Readjustment Income of $100 per month for 12 months	1,200.00
A Steady Income of $50.00 per month beginning the 13th month following death and continuing for 19 full years	11,400.00
A Lump Sum of $4,000 in cash (or its equivalent in a monthly income) at the end of the 20 year period	4,000.00
TOTAL PAYMENTS TO FAMILY	$17,600.00

2 "MUST" PROTECTION FOR BUSINESS, PROFESSIONAL MEN

Low-cost, level-premium policy, $10,000 units. High cash values after second year. Provides business protection, retirement income, or family protection. Remarkably low net cost makes this policy ideal for—

Partnership Insurance . . . to buy interest of partner who dies.

Estate Planning . . . protection against debts and taxes in settling an estate.

Cash Reserve . . . to protect business or professional career in case of accident or illness.

These realistically priced policies are backed by one of America's soundest and most progressive insurance organizations . . . providing sound and thrifty protection for nearly two million families. Other value-wise Farm Bureau plans may suit your special needs better. You can get full details from the Farm Bureau man in your community . . . today. You and your family will be happier that you did it now.

KOREAN WAIF FINDS HIS HOME AT BOY'S TOWN

Twelve-Year-Old Orphan Spends First Day As Celebrity

BOYS TOWN, Neb., May 26 (AP)—Father Flanagan's city of little men got its newest citizen today, a 12-year-old Korean War orphan who walks on his artificial feet as though he had used them all his life.

Bashful but ever-smiling Song Yong Cho, who a year ago was dragging himself about without feet, shining shoes for soldiers near the railroad station at Pusan, was at his new home.

In his first 12 hours at Boys Town after an air trip from the Orient, Song:

1. Awakened at 4:30 a. m., a habit apparently picked up by association with GI's in Korea.

2. HAD HIS SHOES shined by the mayor of Boys Town—stunt dreamed up by photographers.

3. Kept a poised but unbroken silence while newsmen and photographers clogged the office of Msgr. Nicholas H. Wegner, director of Boys Town, to meet the lad whose new life results from the efforts of friends half way around the world.

What the appealing little fellow thought about it all, he wasn't saying—in words at least.

Song suffered severe frostbite during the Winter of 1950 and both feet had to be amputated. At the same time he lost his parents and relatives.

HIS FIRST befriender was Sgt. Harold J. Douglas, Hattiesburg, Miss., who found him at Pusan shining shoes, dragging himself about on his buttocks, but cheerful through it all.

Young Song Cho fitted with artificial feet and correspondence led to his acceptance at Boys Town. He arrived by air at Seattle yesterday.

Msgr. Wegner, Father Flanagan's successor, joined Song at Minneapolis for the last leg of the trip last night.

Although it was 7 a. m., Pottstown time before Song set foot on Boys Town for the first time, he was up before dawn.

* * *

WANTED TO go to school, he said.

He ate a big breakfast.

The press conference later, enough to upset even an experienced celebrity, was endured by Song with a slightly-bewildered calm.

At the behest of photographers, he was coaxed into Father Wegner's big desk chair. "Better enjoy it," laughed Father Wegner, "you may never have that chance again."

Mayor Bill Maddux came over and went through the shoe shining routine. Song was sort of reluctant, but went along with it.

NOT EVEN an attempt at conversation in the Korean language broke down the boy's reserve. John Pack, an ex-Korean now a seminary student and Summer-time helper here, tried but could not get the lad to talk.

Then, while Father Wegner read to reporters the touching correspondence that opened Boys Town's gates to the waif, little Song sat there in a big chair, his eyes on the carpeted floor.

He looked up and out the window at the buildings and beautifully landscaped grounds that make up this place.

Then he stole a glance at a small statuette on a ledge beside him—a statuette of one boy carrying another on his back and captioned: "He's not heavy, Father; he's my brother."

Song's eyes were shining.

Negro Minister Hits Fake Christianity

DENVER, May 26 (AP)—A Negro minister, Dr. Gardner Taylor Brooklyn, told the American Baptist convention many persons calling themselves Christians "cannot stand to live in areas where the population is not white, gentile, Protestant, Republican and third generation."

Dr. Taylor said in an address last night he is "smitten with shame" that there is less real Christianity in his New Concord Baptist all-Negro church than there is on the Brooklyn Baseball club.

Calling "Protestantism a weak and divided voice," he said: "Some congressional committees are sure that Protestantism's leaders are those who can be pilloried and held up to public shame, since no winged thunderbolts of the Protestant avenger will shake the voting places next election."

Taft Expected to Return To Capital This Week

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Senator Knowland (R-Calif) said today he expects majority leader Taft of Ohio to return to his desk in Washington Thursday afternoon.

Taft is in Holmes hospital, Cincinnati. His office said he is receiving x-ray treatment for a hip pain which caused him considerable trouble the past week.

Fleetwood Minister To Speak at Area Memorial Services

AMITYVILLE & WEAVERTOWN—Mrs. Daniel Maderia, corr. Phone Birdsboro 2-1022. Dale Marsteller, del., Phone Yellow House 9-4524.

Memorial Day services will be held in the local cemetery, Saturday at 2 p. m. The Rev. Paul Kehm, of Fleetwood, will be guest speaker.

The baccalaureate service for the graduates of Amity High school will be held Sunday, at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Paul Dundore will be assisted in the service by the Rev Solly and the Rev. Smythe.

Altar flowers for St. Paul's Reformed service were placed in memory of Lorah Rahn and Eli Rhoads. The members of the PO of A and POS of A attended the church service in a group.

The members of the choir of St. Paul's Lutheran church and the church council were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Meas at Moore's diner. Music was furnished by Shirley Kessler.

THE JUNIORS and Seniors of Amity visited the State capitol and the Hershey plant. They were chaperoned by Principal M. C. Billett.

The Sophonomer class of Amity will hold a farewell dance on Friday night in the school building. Bill Deegan and his orchestra will furnished the music.

The Ladies Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. Norman Smith, Wednesday afternoon, June 3.

Town Sets Sights On Improvements

PERRYOPOLIS, May 26 — A $500,000 improvement program — part of a 1.5 million dollar inheritance — is expected to be recommended by this Fayette county community immediately after the November election.

The program, sponsored by the Perryopolis Community Planning association, calls for a sewage disposal plant and a school building costing $250,000 each. Another $10,800 will give the community, which has only one street light, an electric lighting system.

A native daughter, Mary Frazier of Philadelphia Fidelity Trust company, and nominees for council are for the community's plans.

Russian Member Leaves UN Post

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—The UN today announced the resignation of Assistant Secretary - General Constantine Zinchenko, top Russian member of the secretariat, and the appointment of another Russian to replace him.

The new assistant secretary-general is Ilya Semenovich Chernyshev, 41, former Soviet ambassador to Sweden, and later deputy to the head of Tass, the Soviet news agency.

The announcement was made in a telephone call from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, who is in Europe. Informed quarters said Chernyshev was one of several men suggested by Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet UN delegate, in a recent talk with Hammarskjold.

Zinchenko had been absent from his post since July when he returned to Russia on home leave. At the end of his leave he reported to the then Secretary - General Tryge Lie that he was ill and was carried on the UN sick list until his resignation.

The announcement said he had resigned "for reasons of continued ill health."

Chernyshev will be in charge of political and security council affairs a post that has been filled by a Russian since the founding of the UN.

Court Order to Bring Prisoner to Red Trial

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP)—US District Court Judge Rabe F. Marsh signed an order today which will bring a convicted Communist here from an Indiana prison to testify at the trial of five other Communists.

The convict-witness is Benjamin Davis, former member of the New York City council who was convicted of conspiracy charges and sentenced to five years.

On trial here, charged with conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the Government are Steve Nelson, former chairman of the Western Pennsylvania Communist party and these aides: Irving Weissman, Beniamin Careathers, William Albertson and James Dolsen. The trial has been recessed until tomorrow.

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP) — A tentative report by the mass transportation study committee recommended today the creation of a county transit authority to take over the Pittsburgh Railways company and Independent Bus lines.

Small Red Planes Bomb ROK Capital

SEOUL, Wednesday, May 27 (AP)—Three to five small, low-flying Communist planes flew over Seoul and its nearby airfield early today and dropped several bombs.

No casualties nor damage was reported.

A Fifth air force spokesman said the planes probably were of the "Red Check Charley" type — meaning they were simply on a harrassing mission.

The planes flew over Seoul at an altitude of 1000 to 1500 feet and at a speed of 100 to 110 miles an hour.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

—Mercury Staff Photo

Far bigger than it looks is this home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Heiser at 582 North Keim street (near Wilson street), which was finished in the Summer of 1950 by Earl M. Kerstetter and Anthony L. Veach, who were partners in contracting then. The Heisers recently planted that pin oak, and the lawn didn't get its thick look without work by him. Downstairs are the living room (behind triple window), 12 by 16 feet; den; kitchen, powder room and dining room. Upstairs are two bedrooms and bath. There is no cellar, but Mrs. Heiser has a laundry space in the garage, to which a small porch, with bench and trellis is being added to the entrance at right rear. Heiser is an engineer for Jacobs Aircraft Engine company.

Press Reports Denied By Mrs. Roosevelt

TOKYO, Wednesday, May 27 (AP)—Reports that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt had been pulled from her car by a group of demonstrating Japanese women, published by the newspaper Yomiuri, were denied Tuesday by Maureen Cobb, Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary.

The secretary said a group of Japanese women surrounded but did not touch Mrs. Roosevelt as she was leaving a Government office building Monday.

Yomiuri said the women carried Communist banners and jerked Mrs. Roosevelt from her car when she refused to give them an interview.

Men Get Birthdays Paid

PUEBLO, Colo., May 26 (AP)—Something new is included in a labor contract signed today between the Southern Colorado Power company and its AFL workers—each employe gets his birthday off as a paid holiday.

Rats and mice plagued the ancient Egyptians and it is believed they developed cats to control them.

Charles G. Trout Formally Ordained At Ceremony in Evangelical Church

Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, Boyertown, was the scene for the ordination ceremony which formally ordained Charles R. Trout into the ministry of the Evangelical and Reformed church the past Sunday during the morning worship service.

Jesse H Mercer, representing the Senior choir of the church, presented a fountain pen. The following gifts were given by the congregation and were presented by the officiating pastors. A Bible presented by the Rev. R. Billmyer, pastor of Bausman Memorial church, Wyomissing, a hymnal presented by the host pastor, the Rev. Harper L Schneck; a book of worship presented by the Rev. Delas R. Keener, president of the Reading synod and pastor of First Church, Schuylkill Haven.

The Rev. Schneck preached the ordination sermon using the theme, "Behold the Man." The Rev. Keener was in charge of the ordination ceremony in which all three pastors participated. The Rev. Trout was presented for ordination by his father, Charles G. Trout, an elder in the local Reformed church.

A fellowship dinner for the Rev. Trout and his family followed in the church social room and was attended by approximately 100 friends and guests. Following the fellowship dinner, remarks were made by a number of those present.

AFL Leader Orders Dockworkers Union To Clean-Up House

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—AFL President George Meany today ordered the International Longshoremen's association (ILA) to clean its house at once. He said it hasn't done a good job on reforms up to now.

The ILA, an AFL affiliate which represents the workers on the waterfronts of New York City and northern New Jersey, has been involved in a series of racket-hunting investigations by the FBI, Congress and a New York State Crime commission.

Meany's letter was addressed to Joseph P. Ryan, ILA president who is himself under indictment on charges of larceny involving union funds.

Meany said the AFL Executive council has rejected Ryan's report on the ILA's clean-up efforts as inadequate. He directed Ryan to oust union officials known to be racketeers and to open negotiations immediately with employers to eliminate the "shape up" hiring system.

The letter asked the ILA to submit a report on its housecleaning measures by July 27. It invited the union to send representatives to the AFL's council next meeting Aug. 10 in Chicago, to report further on the situation.

School Bible Readings Sought by Legislator

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 26 (AP)—An Illinois State senator today proposed daily readings from the Bible's Old Testament to public school children.

Sen. Egbert B Groen (R-Pekin) filed a bill to require the reading—without comment by the teacher—of at least five verses at the opening of school sessions.

Federal Grand Jury To Probe Waterfront

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — A special Federal grand jury today was thrown into the widening battle against crime on New York's 350-mile waterfront. It will be impaneled June 9.

"The investigation has become a major project in the Department of Justice," said Attorney General Herbert Brownell in Washington.

The grand jury will wield a hefty weapon that many a previous investigation lacked—the power to punish Federal income tax violators among the racketeers who infest the world's largest port.

Previous investigations have pictured the piers as hotbeds of murder, thievery and shakedowns, bleeding 350 million dollars a year from New York's eight billion a year shipping industry.

Oatis Makes Plans To Enter Sanitarium

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis is entering a sanitarium shortly for treatment of a lung condition he contracted in a Czech Communist prison.

Physicians who examined him said he was in good physical condition except for a possibility that tuberculosis is still active in a small area. He will enter the sanitarium for an indefinite period.

Oatis was released May 16 after he served 25 months of a ten year sentence for espionage. He said his newsgathering activities would have been considered routine in this country.

Cop Nabs Brother At Robbery Scene

CALUMET CITY, Ill., May 26 (AP)—A cop arrested his own brother today in connection with a burglary he was investigating.

Patrolman Leonard Kozlowski, 35, and two other officers, tipped a robbery was in progress at a tavern, seized two men as they emerged from a window.

The three were held without charge.
